Appendix A – DFE Part One: Keeping Children Safe in Education 2025	44
Appendix B - Radicalisation & PREVENT Strategy	62
Appendix C - Keeping Apprentices Safe	64

1. Purpose

Safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children is everyone's responsibility. Everyone who comes into contact with children and their families and carers has a role to play in safeguarding children. In order to fulfil this responsibility effectively, all professionals should make sure their approach is child-centred. This means that they should consider, at all times, what is in the best interests of the child.¹

The purpose of the Safeguarding Policy and Procedure and related training are to ensure the college provides a safe learning environment for children, young people and adults at risk. The college is committed to:

- a. Raising the awareness and identification of children or adults at risk who are at risk of significant harm and providing clear procedures for reporting concerns.
- b. Raising the awareness of young people and adults at risk, including the importance of staying safe on-line.
- c. Raising awareness of the Prevent duty and identification of children or adults at risk of radicalisation and utilising the safeguarding procedures for reporting concerns.
- d. Establishing procedures for reporting and dealing with allegations of abuse against members of staff.
- e. The safe recruitment of staff.

2. Scope

No single professional can have a full picture of a child's needs and circumstances. If children and families are to receive the right help at the right time, everyone who comes into contact with them has a role to play in identifying concerns, sharing information and taking prompt action.

This policy and procedure applies to all College staff, whether teaching, administrative, management or support, as well as to volunteers. The word "staff" is used to denote all these groups.

College staff will follow the guidance outlined in the Safeguarding Policy and Procedure.

The College has a statutory and moral duty to promote and safeguard the welfare of all our students under the age of 18 and adults at risk receiving education and training at the college. This includes protecting them from situations where they may be abused. The college will ensure that all staff understand that children and young people may not feel ready or know how to tell someone that they are being abused, exploited or neglected or may not recognise their experiences as harmful

The policy applies to all students under the age of 18 years of age, all adults at risk, all students over the age of 18 where there are minors in the household and abuse, neglect or exploitation is disclosed and all staff without exception. The policy is also applied to all visitors and contractors to the college. The policy applies to all college sites and community venues.

3. Responsibility

The policy ensures all disclosures are referred to the Designated Safeguarding Officers, where they will be acted upon accordingly.

Operational responsibility for the implementation of the policy lies with the Director of Student Support and Inclusion. This policy will be monitored by Executive Leadership Team (ELT) and the Director of Student Support and Inclusion at appropriate intervals and will be reviewed on a regular basis.

Any changes or addendums in response to changes in year will be agreed by ELT and the governing body and shared with staff and via the college website.

The Safeguarding Team will meet fortnightly to discuss any issues, and update on individual learners, and where appropriate updates from Channel Panel meetings including the Prevent strategy and local pertinent information available to the college.

The Principal has overall responsibility for Safeguarding.

4. General Principles

- 4.1 The College recognises that it has a statutory obligation under the Children Act 1989, the Children Act 2004, section 175 Education Act 2002, section 55 of the Borders, Citizenship and Immigration Act 2009, Working Together to Safeguard Children 2023 and Keeping Children Safe in Education Sept 2025, to safeguard and promote the welfare of its individuals. This document offers guidance and outlines procedures that should be followed in all cases of suspected abuse and situations of serious risk. It applies to all individuals under the age of 18 or those over 18 who are considered to be “adults at risk”. Adults at risk are people aged over 18 who are affected by mental ill health, have a learning difficulty or disability, or a physical disability or impairment.
- 4.2 Safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children is defined as protecting children from maltreatment; preventing impairment of children’s health or development; ensuring that children grow up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care; and taking action to enable all children to have the best outcomes.
- 4.3 In relation to adults at risk the government set out key principles in The Care Act 2014 (Chapter 14).
- 4.4 The College also recognises its responsibility to safeguard children and adults at risk in the wider community. For instance, if an individual has younger siblings or an adult at risk within their family.
- 4.5 This policy applies to all “children” i.e. young persons under the age of 18 years or those over 18 considered to be an adult at risk.
- 4.6 The welfare of the child/student is, at all times, of paramount importance, irrespective of where any harm takes place.

The college is committed to ensuring that we:

- a. Provide a safe environment to learn, onsite and remotely, for children, young people and adults at risk.
- b. Identify children, young people and adults at risk who may benefit from early help. Ensure the appropriate staff and/or external agencies are involved in an early help assessment.
- c. Are alert to the need for early help for a child who:
 - is frequently missing/goes missing from education, home or care
 - has experienced multiple suspensions, is at risk of being permanently excluded from schools, colleges and in alternative provision or a pupil referral unit
 - has a parent or carer in custody or is affected by parental offending
- d. Identify children, young people and adults at risk who are suffering, or likely to suffer significant harm, and take appropriate action to see that such children, young people and adults at risk are kept safe, both at home, in the workplace and at the college.
- e. Identify children, young people and adults who have been, or likely to be, radicalised and take appropriate action.
- f. Establish clear procedures for reporting and dealing with allegations of abuse, neglect and exploitation.
- g. Establish a clear training schedule to ensure all staff are trained and familiar with the Safeguarding Policy and Procedures.
- h. Provide appropriate support to students who have been abused, neglected or exploited. For example, signposting them appropriately to external services for specialist support.
- i. Establish clear procedures for reporting and dealing with allegations of abuse against members of staff.
- j. Establish the safe recruitment of staff (including volunteers) in compliance with the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) regulations, including DBS checks and additional barring checks to ensure that staff are not prohibited from teaching as well as obtaining and checking of references and identity checks.
- k. Ensure all staff who work for The College are made aware during induction, of the Sexual Offences Act 2003 and that it is an offence for a person over the age of 18 to have a relationship with a child under the age of 18 where that person is in a position of trust in respect of that child, even if the relationship is consensual. This applies where the child is in full-time education and the person works at the same establishment as the child, even if he/she does not teach the child.
- l. Ensure all staff who work for the college receive appropriate safeguarding and child protection training (including online safety which, amongst other things, includes an understanding of the expectations, applicable roles and responsibilities in relation to filtering and monitoring) at induction. The training is regularly updated and will be delivered annually. In addition, staff receive safeguarding and child protection (including online safety) updates (by email, Safeguarding & Prevent Bulletin, CPD and staff meetings), as required.

In developing the Safeguarding Policy, the college have consulted with and taken into account, guidance issued by the Department for Education (DfE), the NSPCC, CEOP, UK Council for Internet Safety (UKCIS) the Cheshire West and Chester and Warrington Local Safeguarding Partnerships, Cheshire Police, including Counter Terrorism and Prevent, CSE Co-ordinators, The Office for Students (OfS) and Social Care.

The college will refer concerns that a child, young person or adult at risk is at risk of significant harm to Social Care and/or the Police.

5. Roles and Responsibilities

5.1 Designated Staff with Responsibility for Child Protection

The governing body will appoint a governor with special responsibility for child protection/adult at risk issues. He/she will undertake appropriate training with Social Services and other external agencies as appropriate.

There will be a member of the Senior Leadership Team, with lead responsibility for child protection and adult at risk protection who reports to the Principal. The designated member of staff with lead responsibility for child protection and adult at risk protection is the Director of Student Support and Inclusion, assisted by, the Deputy Safeguarding Leads (Safeguarding and Inclusion Managers) and Wellbeing Officers. All Designated Safeguarding Officers will be required to update their Local Safeguarding Partnership training every 2 years.

All staff undergo safeguarding and child protection training at induction; all staff receive training annually to ensure they are equipped with the skills and knowledge to safeguard children effectively. Refresher and update training takes place throughout the year if appropriate.

The governing body and the Executive Leadership Team (ELT) will receive on a termly and annual basis, a report on safeguarding issues and duties discharged (as well as a monthly report to SLT). The designated member of staff with lead responsibility for child protection and adults at risk protection is responsible for reporting deficiencies in procedure or policy identified by the Local Safeguarding Partnership (or others) to the governing body at the earliest opportunity.

5.2 Designated Member of Staff with Lead Responsibility

The Director of Student Support and Inclusion has the lead responsibility for safeguarding and child protection and has a key duty to take lead responsibility for raising awareness with staff of issues relating to the welfare of children and young people, and the promotion of a safe environment for the children and young people learning within the College.

The Director of Student Support and Inclusion has received training in child protection and safeguarding adults at risk issues and inter-agency working, as required by the Local Safeguarding Partnerships. In addition, the Director for Student Support and Inclusion has also undertaken Advanced Safeguarding for Designated Safeguarding Leads. The Director and wider team will receive refresher training at least every 2 years as well as regularly monitoring developments surrounding safeguarding and child protection.

The designated Safeguarding Officer is responsible for:

- a. Overseeing the referral of cases of suspected abuse or allegations to Social Care.
- b. Identifying deputy designated safeguarding leads and ensure they are appropriately trained.
- c. Ensuring during term time the designated safeguarding lead and or a deputy is available in College to discuss safeguarding concerns.
- d. Ensuring that adequate and appropriate cover is available for out of hours/out of term activities.
- e. Providing advice and support to other staff on issues relating to child protection.
- f. Maintaining a proper record of any child protection referral, complaint or concern, even where that concern does not lead to a referral (see section 16 Confidentiality and section 17 Written Records).
- g. Liaising with the Principal and Governors in relation to ongoing enquiries under Section 47 of the Children Act 1989 and police investigations.
- h. Ensuring that parents of children and young people within the College are aware of the College's Safeguarding Policy.
- i. Liaising with the relevant local authority, and other appropriate agencies.
- j. Liaising with secondary schools which send pupils to the College to ensure that appropriate arrangements are made for the pupils.
- k. Liaising with other colleges when a learner leaves to join another college to ensure their child protection file is transferred to the new college as soon as possible, ensuring secure transit, and confirmation of receipt.
- l. Liaising with employers and training organisations that receive children or young people from the College on long term placements or employ learners as part of their apprenticeship to ensure that appropriate safeguards are put in place.
- m. Ensuring that staff receive appropriate training in child protection issues and the Prevent Duty and are aware of the related College procedures.
- n. Ensuring that all governors and trustees receive safeguarding and child protection training at induction which is updated on a regular basis.

5.3 Designated Staff Members

Other designated members of staff with responsibility for safeguarding issues are the Safeguarding and Inclusion Managers, and Wellbeing Officers.

These designated staff members:

- a. Report to the senior member of staff with lead responsibility
- b. Will know how to make an appropriate referral
- c. Will ensure that all referrals to Social Care / Police will be made verbally and/or via the appropriate referral form as directed by the Local Safeguarding Partnership.

- d. Will be available to provide advice and support to other staff on issues relating to child protection
- e. Have particular responsibility to be available to listen to children and young people and adults at risk studying at the College
- f. Will deal with individual cases, including attending case conferences and review meetings as appropriate.
- g. Have received training in child protection issues and inter-agency working, as required by the Local Safeguarding Partnership, and will receive refresher training at least every 2 years.
- h. Will ensure that all referrals, complaints or concerns remain confidential (see section 16 Confidentiality and section 17 Written Records)
- i. Review reports and findings from online filtering and monitoring systems and follow up where appropriate

5.4 Designated Governor

The designated governor is responsible for liaising with the Principal and the Designated Safeguarding Lead with lead responsibility over matters regarding child and adult at risk protection, including:

- a. Ensuring that the College has procedures and policies which are consistent with the Local Safeguarding Partnership's (Social Care) procedures
- b. Ensuring that the governing body considers the College policy on safeguarding each year
- c. Ensuring that each year the governing body is informed of how the College and its staff have complied with the policy, including but not limited to a report on the training that staff have undertaken.

The designated governor is responsible for overseeing the liaison between agencies such as the police, social services in connection with allegations against the Principal. This will not involve undertaking any form of investigation, but will ensure good communication between the parties and provide information to assist enquiries. To assist in these duties, the designated governor shall receive appropriate training.

5.5 The Governing Body

The Governing Body should ensure that:

- The college has appropriate policies and procedures in place in order for appropriate action to be taken in a timely manner to safeguard and promote children's welfare. This includes an effective child protection and safeguarding policy and a code of conduct written in accordance with local authority guidance and locally agreed inter-agency procedures. The policy is provided to all staff, including temporary staff and volunteers, and is made available to parents on request
- Appropriate safeguarding responses are in place for children who demonstrate unexplainable and/or persistent absences from education, particularly on repeat occasions in order to identify the risk of abuse, neglect and exploitation and to prevent the risks of their going missing in the future

- The college operates safe recruitment procedures and makes sure that all appropriate checks are carried out on staff and volunteers who work with children
- The college has procedures for dealing with allegations of abuse against staff and volunteers that comply with guidance from the local authority and locally agreed inter-agency procedures
- A senior member of the college's SLT is designated to take overall responsibility for safeguarding and that this person has the necessary training and experience to undertake this role
- Staff undertake appropriate safeguarding training
- They remedy, without delay, any deficiencies or weaknesses regarding safeguarding arrangements
- A designated governor for safeguarding is appointed.
- An identified member of staff has responsibility for monitoring the achievement and personal circumstances of students who are in local authority care
- Where services or activities are provided on the college premises by another body, the body concerned has appropriate policies and procedures in place in regard to safeguarding and liaises with the college on these matters where appropriate
- They review their policies and procedures annually
- All policies and procedures take into account the statutory guidance outlined in "Keeping children safe in education: statutory guidance for schools and colleges" DfE, September 2025 and "Working together to safeguard children" HM Government, December 2023.

A safeguarding update is submitted to Governors each term. An annual report is produced to ensure that Governors have an overview of safeguarding activities undertaken during the year and approve areas for development.

The Safeguarding Committee

This meets termly to address issues such as safeguarding policy/procedure, staff training programme, student activities, maintaining outstanding safeguarding and other relevant issues. Members of the Committee are the Principal, Director of Student Support and Inclusion, Director of Human Resources, Director of IT Services, Safeguarding and Inclusion Managers, Wellbeing Officers, Health & Safety Officer, Curriculum, pastoral and learning support representatives, The Designated Governor is also invited to attend.

6. Definitions of child or adult at risk, abuse, neglect and exploitation

Safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children is defined for the purposes of this guidance as:

- providing help and support to meet the needs of children as soon as problems emerge
- protecting children from maltreatment, whether that is within or outside the home, including online
- preventing impairment of children's mental and physical health or development
- ensuring that children grow up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care
- promoting the upbringing of children with their birth parents, or otherwise their family network⁴ through a kinship care arrangement, whenever possible and where this is in the best interests of the children
- taking action to enable all children to have the best outcomes in line with the outcomes set out in the Children's Social Care National Framework².

Child protection is part of safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and is defined as activity that is undertaken to protect specific children who are suspected to be suffering, or likely to suffer, significant harm. This includes harm that occurs inside or outside the home, including online.

Effective safeguarding means practitioners should understand and be sensitive to factors, including economic and social circumstances and ethnicity, which can impact children and families' lives.

Abuse: a form of maltreatment of a child. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm or by failing to act to prevent harm. Harm can include ill treatment that is not physical as well as the impact of witnessing ill treatment of others. This can be particularly relevant, for example, in relation to the impact on children of all forms of domestic abuse, including where they see, hear or experience its effects. Children may be abused in a family or in an institutional or community setting by those known to them or, more rarely, by others. Abuse can take place wholly online, or technology may be used to facilitate offline abuse. Children may be abused by an adult or adults or by another child or children

All staff are made aware that abuse, neglect and safeguarding issues are rarely stand-alone events that can be covered by one definition or label. In most cases multiple issues will overlap with one another.

The College recognises the following as definitions of abuse:

6.1 Physical abuse: a form of abuse which may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.

6.2 Emotional abuse: the persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve conveying to a child that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning or preventing the child from participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyberbullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, although it may occur alone.

6.3 Sexual abuse: involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving violence, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example rape or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing, and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse. Sexual abuse can take place online, and technology can be used to facilitate offline abuse. Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children. The sexual abuse of children by other children is a specific safeguarding issue (also known as peer on peer abuse) and all staff should be aware of it and of their school or college's policy and procedures for dealing with it.

6.4 Neglect: the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect may occur during pregnancy, for example, as a result of maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to: provide adequate food, clothing and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment); protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger; ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate care-givers); or ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment. It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.

7. Safeguarding issues

All staff should have an awareness of safeguarding issues that can put children at risk of harm. Behaviours linked to issues such as drug taking and/or alcohol misuse, unexplainable and/or persistent absences from education, serious violence (including that linked to county lines), radicalisation and consensual and non-consensual sharing of nude and semi-nude images and/or videos.³ can be signs that children are at risk. Below are some safeguarding issues all staff should be aware of.

Consensual image sharing, especially between older children of the same age, may require a different response. It might not be abusive – but children still need to know it is illegal- whilst non-consensual is illegal and abusive. UKCIS provides detailed advice about sharing of nudes and semi-nude images and videos.¹² Child Sexual Exploitation (CSE) and Child Criminal Exploitation (CCE).

³ Consensual image sharing, especially between older children of the same age, may require a different response. It might not be abusive – but children still need to know it is illegal- whilst non-consensual is illegal and abusive. UKCIS provides detailed advice about sharing of nudes and semi-nude images and videos.

Both CSE and CCE are forms of abuse that occur where an individual or group takes advantage of an imbalance in power to coerce, manipulate or deceive a child into taking part in sexual or criminal activity, in exchange for something the victim needs or wants, and/or for the financial advantage or increased status of the perpetrator or facilitator and/or through violence or the threat of violence. CSE and CCE can affect children, both male and female and can include children who have been moved (commonly referred to as trafficking) for the purpose of exploitation.

7.1 Child Criminal Exploitation (CCE)

Some specific forms of CCE can include children being forced or manipulated into transporting drugs or money through county lines, working in cannabis factories, shoplifting or pickpocketing. They can also be forced or manipulated into committing vehicle crime or threatening/committing serious violence to others.

Children can become trapped by this type of exploitation as perpetrators can threaten victims (and their families) with violence, or entrap and coerce them into debt. They may be coerced into carrying weapons such as knives or begin to carry a knife for a sense of protection from harm from others. As children involved in criminal exploitation often commit crimes themselves, their vulnerability as victims is not always recognised by adults and professionals, (particularly older children), and they are not treated as victims despite the harm they have experienced. They may still have been criminally exploited even if the activity appears to be something they have agreed or consented to.

It is important to note that the experience of girls who are criminally exploited can be very different to that of boys. The indicators may not be the same, however professionals should be aware that girls are at risk of criminal exploitation too. It is also important to note that both boys and girls being criminally exploited may be at higher risk of sexual exploitation. Further information about CCE including definitions and indicators is included in Annex B.

7.2 Child Sexual Exploitation (CSE)

CSE is a form of child sexual abuse. Sexual abuse may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example, rape or oral sex) or nonpenetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing, and touching outside clothing. It may include noncontact activities, such as involving children in the production of sexual images, forcing children to look at sexual images or watch sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways or grooming a child in preparation for abuse including via the internet.

CSE can occur over time or be a one-off occurrence, and may happen without the child's immediate knowledge e.g. through others sharing videos or images of them on social media.

CSE can affect any child, who has been coerced into engaging in sexual activities. This includes 16 and 17 year olds who can legally consent to have sex. Some children may not realise they are being exploited e.g. they believe they are in a genuine romantic relationship.

7.3 Female Genital Mutilation (FGM)

Whilst all staff should speak to the designated safeguarding lead (or deputy) with regard to any concerns about female genital mutilation (FGM), there is a specific legal duty on teachers. 10 If a teacher, in the course of their work in the profession, discovers that an act of FGM appears to have been carried out on a girl under the age of 18, the teacher must report this to the police. See Annex B for further details.

7.4 Mental Health

All staff should be aware that mental health problems can, in some cases, be an indicator that a child has suffered or is at risk of suffering abuse, neglect or exploitation.

Only appropriately trained professionals should attempt to make a diagnosis of a mental health problem. Education staff, however, are well placed to observe children day-to-day and identify those whose behaviour suggests that they may be experiencing a mental health problem or be at risk of developing one.

Where children have suffered abuse and neglect, or other potentially traumatic adverse childhood experiences, this can have a lasting impact throughout childhood, adolescence and into adulthood. It is key that staff are aware of how these children's experiences, can impact on their mental health, behaviour, and education.

Schools and colleges can access a range of advice to help them identify children in need of extra mental health support, this includes working with external agencies.

If staff have a mental health concern about a child that is also a safeguarding concern, immediate action should be taken, following the Safeguarding and Prevent Policy and Procedure, and speaking to the designated safeguarding lead or a deputy.

7.5 Peer on peer abuse (child on child)

All staff should be aware that children can abuse other children (often referred to as peer on peer abuse). And that it can happen both inside and outside of college and online. It is important that all staff recognise the indicators and signs of peer on peer abuse and know how to identify it and respond to reports.

All staff should understand, that even if there are no reports in their schools or colleges it does not mean it is not happening, it may be the case that it is just not being reported. As such it is important if staff have any concerns regarding peer on peer abuse they should speak to their designated safeguarding lead (or deputy).

It is essential that all staff understand the importance of challenging inappropriate behaviours between peers, many of which are listed below, that are actually abusive in nature. Downplaying certain behaviours, for example dismissing sexual harassment as "just banter", "just having a laugh", "part of growing up" or "boys being boys" can lead to a culture of unacceptable behaviours, an unsafe environment for children and in worst case scenarios a culture that normalises abuse leading to children accepting it as normal and not coming forward to report it.

Child on child abuse is most likely to include, but may not be limited to:

- Bullying (including cyberbullying, prejudice-based and discriminatory bullying);
- Abuse in intimate personal relationships between peers;
- Physical abuse such as hitting, kicking, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm (this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages physical abuse);
- Sexual violence, such as rape, assault by penetration and sexual assault; (this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages sexual violence); For further information about sexual violence see Annex B.15
- Sexual harassment, such as sexual comments, remarks, jokes and online sexual harassment, which may be standalone or part of a broader pattern of abuse;
- Causing someone to engage in sexual activity without consent, such as forcing someone to strip, touch themselves sexually, or to engage in sexual activity with a third party;
- Consensual and non-consensual sharing of nudes and semi nudes images and or videos¹³ (also known as sexting or youth produced sexual imagery);
- Upskirting,¹⁴ which typically involves taking a picture under a person's clothing without their permission, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress or alarm; and
- Initiation/hazing type violence and rituals (this could include activities involving harassment, abuse or humiliation used as a way of initiating a person into a group and may also include an online element).

All staff should be clear as to the college's policy and procedures with regards to peer on peer abuse and the important role they have to play in preventing it and responding where they believe a child may be at risk from it.

7.6 Serious violence

All staff should be aware of the indicators, which may signal children are at risk from, or are involved with serious violent crime. These may include increased absence from school, a change in friendships or relationships with older individuals or groups, a significant decline in performance, signs of self-harm or a significant change in wellbeing, or signs of assault or unexplained injuries. Unexplained gifts or new possessions could also indicate that children have been approached by, or are involved with, individuals associated with criminal networks or gangs and may be at risk of criminal exploitation.

All staff should be aware of the range of risk factors which increase the likelihood of involvement in serious violence, such as being male, having been frequently absent or permanently excluded from school, having experienced child maltreatment and having been involved in offending, such as theft or robbery.

7.7 Forced Marriage

The tradition of arranged marriages has operated successfully within many communities and many countries for a very long time. A clear distinction must be made between a forced marriage and an arranged marriage. In arranged marriages, the families of both spouses take a leading role in arranging the marriage but the choice whether to accept the arrangement remains with the individuals. In forced marriage, at least one party does not consent to the marriage and some element of duress is involved.

Forced marriage is primarily an issue of violence against women. Most cases involve young women and girls aged between 13 and 30 years, although, there is evidence to suggest that as many as 15% of victims are male.

Forced Marriage is a criminal offence, the offences can include, abduction, physical violence, threatening behaviour. Sexual Intercourse without consent is rape.

How to proceed if you suspect a student may be forced into a marriage against their will.

If you suspect that one of your students is being forced into a marriage against their will, contact a Designated Safeguarding Officer, who will make an assessment whether to contact Social Services or go directly to the Forced Marriage Unit with the Police.

If a female ethnic minority student leaves college unexpectedly and without explanation, contact a Designated Safeguarding Officer, who will try to find out why this student has 'suddenly' left the college without explanation and monitor any concerns.

7.8 Private fostering⁴

Private fostering is very different from the care of children provided by local councils under the Children Act 1989.

Children under 16 (or 18 if disabled) are classed as privately fostered when they are cared for on a full-time basis by adults, who are not their parents or a close relative (brother, sister, aunt, uncle, or grandparents by birth or marriage) for a period of 28 days or more.

Usually a birth parent chooses and arranges private foster placements, which could take many forms. These include:

- Children coming from abroad to access the education and health systems.
- Children living with a friend's family after separation, divorce or arguments at home.
- Teenagers living with the family of a boyfriend or girlfriend.
- People who come to this country to study or work, but antisocial hours make it difficult for them to care for their own children.

Sometimes it's the young person themselves who chooses to live elsewhere and their parents do not object.

There are many reasons why a parent may be unable to look after their child full time, such as:

- Being admitted to hospital.
- Going abroad for lengthy periods.
- A breakdown in relationship between a parent and young person.

⁴ Warrington Borough Council website www.warrington.gov.uk

Should the College become aware of a private fostering arrangement in place for a student under 16 this will be reported to the relevant local authority, to ensure they are aware. The College understands that the local authority has a duty to ensure that children are well cared for in a safe and suitable home.

7.9 Other safeguarding issues include:

- Children missing from home, care or education
- Domestic violence
- Drugs
- Fabricated or induced illness
- Faith abuse
- Forced marriage
- Gangs and youth violence
- Gender-based violence/violence against women and girls
- Hate
- Preventing radicalisation
- Relationship abuse
- Trafficking

Harm can include children witnessing the ill-treatment of others and that this is particularly relevant when children see, hear or experience domestic abuse and its effects⁵.

8. Additional forms of abuse, neglect and exploitation relevant to adult at risk

8.1 Financial/Material Abuse

This includes theft, fraud, pressure around wills, property or inheritance or misuse of benefits.

8.2 Discriminatory Abuse

This includes racist, sexist, or other forms that are based on a person's disability and other forms of harassment, or similar treatment.

8.3 Self-Neglect

This is not a direct form of abuse but staff need to be aware of it in the general context of risk assessment/ risk management and to be aware that they may owe a duty of care to a vulnerable individual who places him/herself at risk in this way.

9. Procedure

9.1 Procedure to follow in the event of a disclosure or concern being raised with regards to child protection or adult at risk protection

⁵ Keeping Children Safe in Education 2025

Staff working with children are advised to maintain an attitude of 'it could happen here' where safeguarding is concerned. When concerned about the welfare of a child, staff should always act in the best interests of the child⁶.

If a student discloses to a member of staff that abuse has taken place, they should be listened to carefully. The following points give guidance on how to proceed with a student who makes an allegation.

- i. The member of staff receiving the disclosure should remain calm
- ii. The student should be listened to carefully, but not interviewed or asked to repeat the account. As soon as it becomes clear that the student is making an allegation of abuse, it is important that the student is gently informed, that the member of staff cannot keep this information to themselves, that they have a legal duty to pass it on to the Designated Safeguarding Officer. Confidentiality cannot be offered to the student. If staff have any concerns about a child's welfare, they should act on them immediately.
- iii. As soon as possible, all of the details should be noted, including timing, setting, who was present, and what was said. The details should be passed to a Designated Safeguarding Officer. Make sure the account reported is verbatim to the student's own words or as close as is possible.
- iv. The Designated Safeguarding Officer will discuss the line of action they have to take, so that the student is informed of the next stage. It may be appropriate for the Designated Safeguarding Officer to meet with the student. Details will be logged on the confidential area of Promonitor.

If a member of the safeguarding team is not available then contact should be made with a member of ELT or the duty manager.

Duty Managers and security staff have guidance to follow in the event of a referral being made "out of hours" A member of the Safeguarding Team will remain-available whilst college is open including via the telephone in the evening, with telephone numbers held on reception. In the event of an incident occurring outside of college hours, the Director of Estates or a member of ELT will contact the Designated Safeguarding Lead or Deputy Safeguarding Leads.

There is a dedicated safeguarding telephone number (01925 494222) with a voicemail facility for out of hours calls. Any messages left on the safeguarding voicemail will also automatically generate a message sent to the safeguarding e-mail.

The statutory guidance states that any member of staff can make a referral if they have concerns about a child or adult at risk. However, the college policy is for all referrals to be made via the Safeguarding Officers so that referrals can be managed and monitored effectively.

However, if a child or adult at risk is in immediate danger or is at risk of harm a referral should be made to children's social care and/or the police immediately. Anyone can make a referral. Where referrals are not made by the designated safeguarding lead the designated safeguarding lead should be informed, as soon as possible, that a referral has been made.

- v. If the student is enrolled on a 14-16 programme, the Designated Safeguarding Officer, will contact the school's Designated Safeguarding Lead to liaise with them on referral. The conversation held with the school will be documented on Promonitor.
- vi. If the student is over the age of 18, is suffering a form of abuse, but is not deemed an adult at risk, but as a college we are aware that there may be other siblings under the age of 18 in the environment, then a Designated Safeguarding Officer must be informed.
- vii. Where a disclosure has been made learners will be signposted to external support services as required.

9.2 Reporting on Allegations of a Student abusing another Student (Child on Child abuse)

All staff are made aware that children, young people and adults at risk are capable of abusing their peers. Peer on peer abuse is abuse and should never be tolerated or passed off as "banter" or "part of growing up".

All staff should be able to reassure victims that they are being taken seriously and that they will be supported and kept safe. A victim should never be given the impression that they are creating a problem by reporting abuse, sexual violence or sexual harassment. Nor should a victim ever be made to feel ashamed for making a report.

Should an allegation of abuse be made against a student by another student, the Designated Safeguarding Officer needs to be contacted immediately. The Designated Safeguarding Officer will make a decision about action to be taken, which may include contacting external agencies.

Both sets of parents or carers will be informed and a decision will be made whether to suspend the accused student, pending outcome of any investigation

Victims of peer abuse will be supported through College student support teams and processes and where appropriate in partnership with external agencies. Examples of peer abuse are outlined in 7.5.

All staff will be made aware of gender issues that can be prevalent when dealing with peer on peer abuse. This could for example include girls being sexually touched/assaulted or boys being subject to initiation/hazing type violence.

9.3 Sexual violence and sexual harassment between children in college⁷

The College has a 'Prevention of harassment, including sexual harassment policy' which outlines the college approach and reporting channels for staff and students. Examples of this type of peer abuse are outlined in 7.5.

⁷ DfE Sexual Violence and sexual harassment between children in schools and colleges May 2018
Now incorporated in DfE: Keeping Children Safe in Education 2025

The college will:

- make clear that sexual violence and sexual harassment is not acceptable, will never be tolerated and is not an inevitable part of growing up.
- not tolerate or dismiss sexual violence or sexual harassment as “banter”, “part of growing up”, “just having a laugh” or “boys being boys”.
- challenge behaviour (potentially criminal in nature), such as grabbing bottoms, breasts and genitalia and flicking bras and lifting up skirts.
- understand that all of the above can be driven by wider societal factors beyond the college, such as everyday sexist stereotypes and everyday sexist language. This is why a whole college approach (especially preventative education) is important.
- make clear that sexual harassment behaviours are not considered normal as reported by Ofsted⁸

SEND

Children with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) are three times more likely to be abused than their peers. Additional barriers can sometimes exist when recognising abuse in SEND children. These can include:

- assumptions that indicators of possible abuse such as behaviour, mood and injury relate to the child's disability without further exploration.
- the potential for children with SEND being disproportionately impacted by behaviours such as bullying and harassment, without outwardly showing any signs.

Any reports of abuse involving children with SEND will therefore require close liaison with the Designated Safeguarding Lead (or deputies) and the named person with oversight for SEN in the college.

Children who are lesbian, gay, bi, trans, or questioning their sexuality (LGBTQ) can be targeted by their peers. In some cases, a child who is perceived by their peers to be LGBTQ (whether they are or not) can be just as vulnerable as children who identify as LGBTQ.

Definitions

Sexual violence

When referring to sexual violence in this policy, we do so in the context of child on child sexual violence.

For the purpose of this policy, when referring to sexual violence we are referring to sexual offences under the Sexual Offences Act 2003 as described below:

Rape: A person (A) commits an offence of rape if: he intentionally penetrates the vagina, anus or mouth of another person (B) with his penis, B does not consent to the penetration and A does not reasonably believe that B consents.

Assault by Penetration: A person (A) commits an offence if: s/he intentionally penetrates the vagina or anus of another person (B) with a part of her/his body or anything else, the penetration is sexual, B does not consent to the penetration and A does not reasonably believe that B consents.

Sexual Assault: A person (A) commits an offence of sexual assault if: s/he intentionally touches another person (B), the touching is sexual, B does not consent to the touching and A does not reasonably believe that B consents.

What is consent? Consent is about having the freedom and capacity to choose. Consent to sexual activity may be given to one sort of sexual activity but not another, e.g. to vaginal but not anal sex or penetration with conditions, such as wearing a condom. Consent can be withdrawn at any time during sexual activity and each time activity occurs. Someone consents to vaginal, anal or oral penetration only if s/he agrees by choice to that penetration and has the freedom and capacity to make that choice.

- a child under the age of 13 can never consent to any sexual activity.
- the age of consent is 16.
- sexual intercourse without consent is rape.

Sexual harassment

For the purpose of this policy, sexual harassment refers to 'unwanted conduct of a sexual nature' that can occur online and offline and is referred to in the context of child on child sexual harassment. Sexual harassment is likely to: violate a child's dignity, and/or make them feel intimidated, degraded or humiliated and/or create a hostile, offensive or sexualised environment.

Whilst not intended to be an exhaustive list, sexual harassment can include:

- sexual comments, such as: telling sexual stories, making lewd comments, making sexual remarks about clothes and appearance and calling someone sexualised names.
- sexual “jokes” or taunting.
- physical behaviour, such as: deliberately brushing against someone, interfering with someone's clothes and displaying pictures, photos or drawings of a sexual nature.
- online sexual harassment. This may be standalone, or part of a wider pattern of sexual harassment and/or sexual violence.
- Upskirting is a highly intrusive practice, which typically involves someone taking a picture under another person's clothing without their knowledge, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks (with or without underwear) to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress or alarm, and is a specific criminal offence in England & Wales

Online sexual harassment may include:

- non-consensual sharing of sexual images and videos.
- sexualised online bullying;
- unwanted sexual comments and messages, including, on social media.
- sexual exploitation; coercion and threats.

Sexual harassment creates an atmosphere that, if not challenged, can normalise inappropriate behaviours and provide an environment that may lead to sexual violence.

Harmful sexual behaviour

Children's sexual behaviour exists on a wide continuum, from normal and developmentally expected to inappropriate, problematic, abusive and violent. Problematic, abusive and violent sexual behaviour is developmentally inappropriate and may cause developmental damage.

Harmful sexual behaviour can occur online and/or offline and can also occur simultaneously between the two and should be considered in a child protection context.

When considering harmful sexual behaviour, ages and the stages of development of the children are critical factors to consider. Sexual behaviour between children can be considered harmful if one of the children is much older, particularly if there is more than two years' difference however, a younger child can abuse an older child, particularly if they have power over them, for example, if the older child is disabled.

Children displaying harmful sexual behaviour have often experienced their own abuse and trauma. It is important that they are offered appropriate support.

Sextortion

Sextortion involves people being forced into paying money or meeting another financial demand, after an offender has threatened to release nude or semi-nude photos of them. This could be a real photo taken by the victim, or a fake image created of them by the offender.

All age groups and genders are being targeted, but a large proportion of cases have involved male victims aged between 14-18.

These crimes can be perpetrated by organised crime groups based overseas, predominantly in some West African countries, but some are also known to be located in South East Asia.

They are motivated by making money quickly, rather than by sexual gratification, and in some cases have gone from initial contact to blackmailing their victim in under an hour.

Child victims have reported being:

- contacted by an online account that they do not know but appears to be another child or young person. They may also be contacted by a hacked account of a child or young person they do know, but the communication feels unfamiliar;
- quickly engaged in sexually explicit communications, which may include the offender sharing an indecent image first;
- manipulated or pressured into taking nude or semi-nude photos or videos;
- told they have been hacked and the offender has access to their images, personal information and contacts (whether this is true or not);
- blackmailed into sending money or meeting another financial demand (such as purchasing a pre-paid gift card) after sharing an image or video, or the offender sharing hacked or digitally manipulated/AI-generated images of their victim and making the threat of sharing them wider.
- Don't pay, do stop contact and block: you may be tempted to pay, but there is no guarantee that this will stop the threats. As the offender's motive is to get money, once you have shown you can pay, they will likely ask for more and blackmail may continue. If you have paid, don't panic but don't pay anything more. Help your child to stop all communication with the offender and block them on any accounts that they have been contacted on.
- Avoid deleting anything: try not to delete anything that could be used as evidence such as messages, images, telephone numbers, and bank account details.
- Report to the police or CEOP: call 101 or 999 if there is an immediate risk of harm to your child. Or you can use the CEOP Safety Centre to report any online blackmail attempts⁹.

⁹ NCA issues urgent warning about 'sextortion' - National Crime Agency

The immediate response to a report

Responding to the report

The initial response to a report from a child is important. It is essential that all victims are reassured that they are being taken seriously and that they will be supported and kept safe. A victim should never be given the impression that they are creating a problem by reporting sexual violence or sexual harassment. Nor should a victim ever be made to feel ashamed for making a report.

In some cases, the victim may not make a direct report. For example, a friend may make a report or a member of staff may overhear a conversation that suggests a child has been harmed. It is important that in such instances staff take appropriate action personally by reporting these concerns to the college safeguarding team immediately. In such cases, the basic safeguarding principles remain the same, but it is important to understand why the victim has chosen not to make a report themselves. This discussion should be handled sensitively and with the support of children's social care if appropriate.

Where reports of alleged sexual violence or sexual harassment involves learners from this college, but is alleged to have taken place away from college premises, or online, or where the children concerned attend two or more different colleges. Appropriate information sharing and effective multi-agency working will be especially important.

Considering confidentiality and anonymity

Confidentiality

Staff taking a report should never promise confidentiality as it is very likely that it will be in the best interests of the victim to seek advice and guidance from others in order to provide support and engage appropriate agencies.

The designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy) will consider the following:

- parents or carers should normally be informed (unless this would put the victim at greater risk)
- the basic safeguarding principle is: if a child is at risk of harm, is in immediate danger, or has been harmed, a referral should be made to children's social care
- rape assault by penetration and sexual assaults are crimes. Where a report of rape, assault by penetration or sexual assault is made, this should be referred to the police.

Anonymity

The college will do all it reasonably can to protect the anonymity of any children involved in any report of sexual violence or sexual harassment. Amongst other things, this will mean carefully considering, based on the nature of the report, which staff should know about the report and any support that will be put in place for the children involved.

Risk Assessment

When there has been a report of sexual violence, the designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy) will make an immediate risk and needs assessment.

Where there has been a report of sexual harassment, the need for a risk assessment should be considered on a case-by-case basis.

The risk and needs assessment will consider:

- the victim, especially their protection and support.
- the alleged perpetrator.
- all the other children (and, if appropriate, adult students and staff), especially any actions that are appropriate to protect them.

Risk assessments will be recorded (written or electronic) and will be kept under review.

At all times, the school or college will actively consider the risks posed to all students and putting adequate measures in place to protect them and keep them safe.

The designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy) will ensure engagement with children's social care and specialist services as required. Where there has been a report of sexual violence, it is likely that professional risk assessments by social workers and or sexual violence specialists will be required.

Professional assessments will be used to inform the college's approach to supporting and protecting students and updating the college risk assessment.

Action following a report of sexual violence and/or sexual harassment

What to consider

The designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy) is likely to have a complete safeguarding picture and be the most appropriate person to advise on the schools or college's initial response.

Important considerations will include:

- the wishes of the victim in terms of how they want to proceed. This is especially important in the context of sexual violence and sexual harassment. Victims should be given as much control as is reasonably possible over decisions regarding how any investigation will be progressed and any support that they will be offered.
- the nature of the alleged incident(s), including: whether a crime may

Ongoing response

For information on good practice in managing the ongoing response to reports of sexual violence and sexual harassment the college will use the guidance in DfE Keeping Children Safe in Education 2025.

The advice in this document will be used to inform actions around:

1. Safeguarding and supporting the victim
2. Safeguarding and supporting the alleged perpetrator
3. Discipline and the alleged perpetrator
4. Working with parents and carers
5. Safeguarding other children

Sexting and Sharing Nudes (also known as Youth Produced Sexual Imagery)

Sexting is when someone sends sexually explicit messages and sharing nudes is when someone shares sexual, naked or semi-naked images or videos of themselves or others. They can be sent using mobiles, tablets, smartphones, and laptops - any device that allows you to share media and messages. The NSPCC proposes in its update document 'Why language matters: Sexting or sharing nudes' 3/10/22 that professionals should consider referring to sexting activities as 'sharing nudes' which is in line with the language commonly used by young people¹⁰.

Creating and sharing sexual photos and videos of under 18's is illegal. Advice issued by UK Council for Internet Safety (UKCIS) has issued the phrase 'youth produced sexual imagery' instead of sexting. This covers the following types of incident:

- A person under the age of 18 creates and shares sexual imagery of themselves with a peer under the age of 18
- A person under the age of 18 shares sexual imagery created by another person under the age of 18 with a peer under the age of 18 or an adult
- A person under the age of 18 is in possession of sexual imagery created by another person under the age of 18

Disclosing private sexual photographs and films with intent to cause distress is a criminal offence.¹¹ However the College is aware of the consequences of criminalising children and follows the guidance issued by the Police when dealing with cases of sexting to ascertain full circumstances and identify whether the act is:

Aggravated – Criminal or abusive elements

Adult involvement or criminal or abusive behavior by minors such as sexual abuse, extortion, threats, malicious conduct arising from personal conflicts.

Experimental – Youths sending, receiving or forwarding sexually explicit messages, photographs or images of themselves: 1) to share with established boy or girlfriends 2) To create romantic interest in another youth 3) For reasons such as attention seeking (no criminal element or intent)

¹⁰ NSPCC website www.nspcc.org.uk

¹¹ Criminal Justice and Courts Act 2015

In the first instance the College will follow guidance issued by UKCIS Sharing nudes, advice for education settings working with children and young people/sharing nudes and semi nudes how to respond to an incident overview¹². and existing safeguarding procedures when alerted to concerns regarding sexting. Should instances of sexting be disclosed or uncovered by the College, which are thought to be aggravated these will be referred to the CSE Co-coordinator (Police) at the relevant local authority. The CSE screening tool will also be used and a referral to Missing children/children at risk of sexual exploitation and trafficked children (MCSETO) operational group will be made. If appropriate young people will be directed to Child Exploitation Online Protection Centre (CEOP) to report if appropriate

Given the potential risks faced by young people online, it's crucial that staff feel confident communicating with young people. This means both understanding the language used by young people to describe their online interactions and using appropriate language that young people can understand and relate to.

10. Reporting and Dealing with Allegations of Abuse against Members of Staff

The College recognises that an allegation of child abuse made against a member of staff may be made for a variety of reasons and that the facts of the allegation may or may not be true. The College therefore needs policies and procedures on the management of situations where there are allegations of abuse.

These procedures outline the steps to be followed and considerations to be made for the reporting and subsequent management of an allegation of abuse against a member or members of staff.

It is imperative that those dealing with an allegation maintain an open mind and those that investigations are thorough and not subject to delay.

The College recognises that the Children Act 1989 states that the welfare of the child is the paramount concern. It also recognises that hasty or ill-informed decisions in connection with a member of staff can irreparably damage an individual's reputation, confidence and career. Therefore, those dealing with such allegations within the College will do so with sensitivity and will act in a careful, measured way.

Scope - These procedures apply to all staff, whether teaching, administrative, management or support, as well as to volunteers. The word "staff" is used to denote all these groups.

Procedures - Making an allegation regarding concerns over another staff member.

There are two ways to raise concerns regarding the conduct of another staff member. Staff can either report the allegation directly to the Director of Student Support and Inclusion or the Director of Human Resources or they may use the Whistleblowing Procedure.

If they choose to use the Whistleblowing Procedure, then the staff member must be made aware that anonymity cannot be guaranteed if the matter is subsequently dealt with by the Police or other external organisation. The Whistleblowing Procedure outlines how a member of staff can report an allegation. The Director of Human Resources, the Director of Student Support and Inclusion and the Principal will then decide on how to deal with the matter who will then follow the normal procedure, which may/will result in a referral to the Local Area Designated Officer (LADO).

10.1 Procedures - Receiving an Allegation from a Child

A member of staff who receives an allegation about another member of staff from a child should follow the guidelines in section 7 for dealing with disclosure.

The allegation should be reported immediately to the Director of Student Support and Inclusion or the Principal (unless the Principal is the person against whom the allegation is made, in which case the report should be made to the Director of Student Support and Inclusion or the designated Governor).

Immediately upon an allegation being made, as well as consulting with the LADO at Social Care and/or the Police, the Director of Student Support and Inclusion or the Principal (or designated person if the allegation is against the Principal) should:

- Obtain written details of the allegation, signed and dated from the person who received the allegation. (Not from the student who made and/or was the subject of the allegation)
- The written details should be countersigned and dated by the Principal (or designated person).
- Record information about times, dates, locations and names of potential witnesses.
- Contact details for the Warrington Local Area Designated Officer (LADO) 01925 442079 or LADO@warrington.gov.uk and for Cheshire West and Chester complete the referral form and send to safeguardinglado@cheshirewestandchester.gcsx.gov.uk

10.2 Initial Assessment by the Principal (or designated person)

The Principal (or designated person) should make an initial assessment of the allegation (ensuring consultation with the Staff Member with Lead Responsibility, the Designated Governor and the relevant Local Safeguarding Partnership as appropriate).

Where the allegation is considered to be either a potential criminal act or indicates that the child has suffered, is suffering or is likely to suffer significant harm, the matter should be reported immediately to a LADO. It is important that the Principal (or designated person) does not investigate the allegation. The initial assessment should be on the basis of the information received and is a decision whether or not the allegation warrants further investigation.

Other potential outcomes are:

- a. The allegation represents inappropriate behavior or poor practice by the member of staff and is neither potentially a crime nor a cause of significant harm to the child. The matter should be addressed in accordance with the College disciplinary procedures.

- b. The allegation can be shown to be false because the facts alleged could not possibly be true.

10.3 Enquiries and Investigations

Safeguarding enquiries by Social Care or the Police are not to be confused with internal, disciplinary enquiries by the College. The College may be able to use the outcome of external agency enquiries as part of its own procedures. The safeguarding agencies, including the police, have no power to direct the College to act in a particular way; however, the College should assist the agencies with their enquiries. Social Care and the Police would be likely to convene a Senior Strategy Meeting and a representative of the College would be expected to participate.

The College shall hold in abeyance its own internal enquiries while the formal Police or Social Services investigations proceed; to do otherwise may prejudice the investigation. Any internal enquiries shall conform to the existing staff disciplinary procedures.

If there is an investigation by an external agency, for example the Police, the Principal (or designated person) should normally be involved in, and contribute to, the inter-agency strategy discussions. The Principal (or designated person) is responsible for ensuring that the College gives every assistance with the agency's enquiries. He/she will ensure that appropriate confidentiality is maintained in connection with the enquiries, in the interests of the member of staff about whom the allegation is made. The Principal (or designated person) shall advise the member of staff that he/she should consult with a representative, for example, a trade union.

Subject to objections from the Police or other investigating agency, the Principal (or designated person) shall:

- a. Inform the child/children/adult at risk/parent/carer making the allegation that the investigation is taking place and what the likely process will involve.
- b. Ensure that the parents/carers of the child making the allegation are aware that the investigation is taking place and what the likely process will involve.
- c. Inform the member of staff against whom the allegation was made of the fact that the investigation is taking place and what the likely process will involve.
- d. Inform the Chair of Governors and/or the designated Governor of the allegation and the investigation.

The Principal (or designated person) shall keep a written record of the action taken in connection with the allegation (see section 22 Confidentiality and section 23 Written Records).

Media attention during an investigation of an allegation can add to the problems for the member of staff and may even hinder an investigation. The College will carefully manage all media relations sensitively and appropriately, as outlined in the Critical Incident Management Strategy. Regrettably, it is often the case that the media become aware of allegations through parents or students. Any briefings to staff and governors will emphasise the need to avoid media coverage in accordance with the Staff Code of Conduct. Staff have the Human Rights Act 2000 to protect “privacy”. Advising the member of staff of any early indications of media interest and or coverage will be essential.

10.4 Potential Outcomes from Senior Strategy Meeting

There are four possible outcomes from a strategy meeting. If the matter is referred to the Police or Social Services, the College will be guided by these agencies on how to deal with the matter. It is likely that this will result in an external investigation.

Decisions on whether to suspend the member of staff and/or invoke the disciplinary procedure will be done in consultation with these organisations. The strategy meeting may decide that the College can investigate the matter and report back the outcome back to the strategy group. If this is the case, then the matter will be dealt with using the College’s disciplinary procedure. The fourth outcome could be that the strategy meeting felt there was no case to investigate.

10.5 Suspension of Staff

Please refer to the disciplinary procedure for guidance on suspension of staff. Consideration should be given to alternatives: e.g. paid leave of absence; agreement to refrain from attending work; change of, or withdrawal from, specified duties.

The parents/carers of the child/adult at risk making the allegation will be informed of the suspension. They should be asked to treat the information as confidential. Consideration should be given to informing the student making the allegation of the suspension.

10.6 The Disciplinary Investigation

The disciplinary investigation should be conducted in accordance with the existing staff disciplinary procedures.

The student/s making the allegation and/or their parents should be informed of the outcome of the investigation and proceedings. This should occur prior to the return to College of the member of staff (if suspended).

The Principal (or designated person) should give consideration to what information should be made available to the general population of the College.

The college will support the legal requirement to make a referral to the Disclosure & Barring Service (DBS) where they think an individual has engaged in conduct that harmed (or is likely to harm) a child or if the person otherwise poses a risk of harm to a child.

10.7 Low level concerns

As part of their whole college approach to safeguarding, the college will ensure that we promote an open and transparent culture in which all concerns about all adults working in or on behalf of the college (including supply teachers, volunteers and contractors) are dealt with promptly and appropriately.

It is critical to create a culture in which all concerns about adults (including allegations that do not meet the harms threshold) are shared responsibly and with the right person, recorded and dealt with appropriately. This should encourage an open and transparent culture, enabling college to identify concerning, problematic or inappropriate behaviour early.

What is a low-level concern?

The term 'low-level' concern does not mean that it is insignificant. A low-level concern is any concern – no matter how small, and even if no more than causing a sense of unease or a 'nagging doubt' - that an adult working in or on behalf of college may have acted in a way that:

- is inconsistent with the staff code of conduct, including inappropriate conduct outside of work; and
- does not meet the allegations threshold or is otherwise not considered serious enough to consider a referral to the LADO.

Examples of such behaviour could include, but are not limited to:

- being over friendly with children
- having favourites
- taking photographs of children on their mobile phone
- engaging with a child on a one-to-one basis in a secluded area or behind a closed door.
- using inappropriate sexualised, intimidating or offensive language.

Such behaviour can exist on a wide spectrum, from the inadvertent or thoughtless, or behaviour that may look to be inappropriate, but might not be in specific circumstances, through to that which is ultimately intended to enable abuse.

It is crucial that any such concerns, including those which do not meet the harm threshold, are shared responsibly and with the right person, and recorded and dealt with appropriately. Ensuring they are dealt with effectively should also protect those working in or on behalf of schools and colleges from potential false allegations or misunderstandings.

10.8 Allegations without foundation

Obviously false allegations may be indicative of problems of abuse elsewhere. A record should be kept and consideration given to a referral to Social Care in order that other agencies may act upon the information.

In consultation with the designated senior member of staff and/or the designated Governor, the Principal shall:

- a. Inform the member of staff against whom the allegation is made orally and in writing that no further disciplinary or safeguarding action will be taken. Consideration should be given to offering counselling/support.
- b. Inform the parents/carers of the alleged victim that the allegation has been made and of the outcome

- c. Where the allegation was made by a child/adult at risk other than the alleged victim, consideration to be given to informing the parents/carers of that child/adult at risk.
- d. Prepare a report outlining the allegation and giving reasons for the conclusion that it had no foundation and confirming that the above action had been taken

10.9 Records

It is important that documents relating to an investigation are retained in a secure place, together with a written record of the outcome and, if disciplinary action is taken, details retained on the member of staff's personal and confidential file (see section 16 Confidentiality and section 17 Written Records). These records should be kept until the member of staff's normal retirement age or for a period of 10 years from the date of allegation if that is longer.

If a member of staff is dismissed or resigns before the disciplinary process is completed, he/she should be informed about the College's statutory duty to inform the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS).

10.10 Monitoring Effectiveness

Where an allegation has been made against a member of staff, the designated Governor, together with the senior staff member with lead responsibility should, at the conclusion of the investigation and any disciplinary procedures, consider whether there are any matters arising from it that could lead to the improvement of the College's procedures and/or policies and/or which should be drawn to the attention of the Local Safeguarding Partnership/Social Care. Consideration should also be given to the training needs of staff.

The NSPCC whistleblowing helpline is available for staff who do not feel able to raise concerns regarding child protection failures internally.

Staff can call: 0800 028 0285 – line is available from 8:00 AM to 8:00 PM, Monday to Friday and Email: help@nspcc.org.uk.¹³

11. Recruitment and Selection Procedures

The College pays full regard to DfE guidance "Keeping children safe in education", September 2025, ensuring that all appropriate measures are applied in relation to everyone who works in the college (e.g. staff, volunteers and staff employed by contractors). Safer recruitment practice includes scrutinising applicants, verifying identity and academic or vocational qualifications, obtaining professional and character references, checking previous employment history and ensuring that a candidate has the health and physical capacity for the job. It also includes undertaking interviews and DBS checks and compliance with the Disclosure & Barring Service (DBS) regulations as well as a barred list check prior to the commencement of employment.

In addition, as part of the shortlisting process the college may consider carrying out an online search as part of due diligence on the shortlisted candidates. This may help identify any incidents or issues that have happened, and are publicly available online, which the college may explore with the applicant at interview. The College informs shortlisted candidates that online searches may be done as part of due diligence checks.

As part of the College's induction procedure all staff members receive Part one of the most recent publication of Keeping Children Safe in Education- undergo safeguarding and child protection training. Training is regularly updated and all staff receive updates at least annually.

This is outlined further in the College's Recruitment and Selection Policy.

12. Responsibilities of College Staff

The College has a staff Code of Conduct which all staff employed by the College must read and adhere to. Full compliance is essential to ensure the wellbeing of students and staff. As well as safeguarding children/adult at risk, the Code of Conduct is also intended to protect staff from the potential risk of a safeguarding allegation being made against them. Staff must ensure they are aware of the college's safeguarding policy and procedures and know the identity of the Safeguarding Officers. Staff will monitor attendance closely and follow up non-attendance promptly to minimise the risk of learners missing from education, therefore reducing the risk of learners becoming vulnerable to abuse and harm. The College will also use disciplinary procedures to reinforce positive behaviour and address instances of poor behaviour including bullying.

All staff will wear a college staff lanyard and ID badge.

13. Online Safety

The use of technology has become a significant component of many safeguarding issues. Child sexual exploitation; radicalisation; sexual predation: technology often provides the platform that facilitates harm. An effective approach to online safety empowers a school or college to protect and educate the whole school or college community in their use of technology and establishes mechanisms to identify, intervene in, and escalate any incident where appropriate.

The breadth of issues classified within online safety is considerable, but can be categorised into three areas of risk:

- content; being exposed to illegal, inappropriate or harmful material; for example, pornography, misinformation, disinformation (including fake news), racist or radical and extremist views;
- contact; being subjected to harmful online interaction with other users; for example, commercial advertising as well as adults posing as children or young adults;
- conduct; personal online behaviour that increases the likelihood of, or causes, harm; for example, making, sending and receiving explicit images, or online bullying and
- commerce: risks such as online gambling, inappropriate advertising, phishing and or financial scams. If it is felt, students or staff are at risk, it can be reported to the Anti-Phishing Working Group (<https://apwg.org/>).

The College have filters and monitoring systems in place and these are regulated and risk assessed as part of the Prevent Duty. We have an online safety policy which identifies the usage and behaviour of staff and students.

The college has clearly assigned roles and responsibilities to manage filtering and monitoring systems, these are communicated at induction and at least annually in safeguarding training.

- The IT department are responsible for reviewing filtering and monitoring provision at least annually.
- The IT department are responsible for blocking harmful and inappropriate content without unreasonably impacting teaching and learning.
- The safeguarding team review the daily and weekly filtering and monitoring reports and follow up accordingly where appropriate or where there are safeguarding needs or concerns.

As a college of further education, we appreciate the value of technology and that appropriate filters are in place, yet this does not lead to unreasonable restrictions which would limit online teaching.

Education at home

Where young people are being asked to learn online at home, the College will refer to and use the links and resources provided by the DfE alongside its own policies, procedures and guidance.

14. Educational Visits and Work Placements

All College trips, activities and placements will be assessed to safeguard and promote the welfare of students and staff, and ensure they are not exposed to any potential safeguarding risks.

14.1 Trips, Residential Visits and Activities

These will be assessed via the relevant Health & Safety Educational Visits checks and paperwork. Learners will be made aware of their responsibilities in relation to safeguarding themselves and others.

If students are staying with families overseas as part of a student exchange, the college should work with partner organisations to ensure appropriate checks are undertaken prior to the visit. DBS cannot access criminal records held overseas. The relevant foreign embassy or High Commission of the country in question can be contacted to see what checks can be undertaken in that country.

Wherever possible, college staff will visit overseas placements prior to the placement being undertaken. Contact details will be given to students to ensure they have an appropriate point of contact.

14.2 Work Placements

Employers and training organisations will be asked to co-operate with the College in putting in place and subscribing to appropriate safeguards. Health and Safety

Procurement (HASP) paperwork will be completed by staff with Health & Safety qualifications.

Training organisations and employers will be asked to make a commitment to safeguarding learners' welfare by endorsing an agreed statement of safeguarding principles.

Enhanced DBS checks cannot be requested for staff supervising 16 and 17 year olds in the workplace. However, a representative from the college will meet any person whose normal duties will include regular caring for, training, looking after or supervising a child in the workplace where that person has been specifically designated to have responsibility for such activities.

4.3 Work Place (Apprenticeships)

Employers and training organisations will be asked to co-operate with the College by putting in place and subscribing to appropriate safeguards. Health and Safety vetting documentation must be provided to the college alongside a child protection policy, and employer's liability insurance (unless eligible for ELI exemption). The college in conjunction with the employer will review and update this annually.

Each apprentice will have an 8 - 12 weekly performance review where Prevent and safeguarding will be discussed. If any concerns occur outside of these time employers and apprentices will contact their apprentice coach as point of contact.

Appendix C gives more information, and can be used as a separate document for employers to help them understand and carry out their duty with regards to Prevent, Safeguarding and British Values.

Employers Safeguarding and Prevent Duty

Employers have a duty to comply with all current and future UK legislation and statutory responsibilities. There is a particular exception that an employer should take responsibility for an apprentice's welfare in the workplace, and to also seek appropriate advice when they feel an apprentice may be at risk in their personal lives.

Employers Safeguarding and Prevent Role

- Familiarise themselves with relevant government legislation.
- Take appropriate steps to understand what safeguarding means in practice at their organisation, in the context of the responsibilities they have for the people they employ.
- Ensure that any staff working with apprentices in a position of trust are appropriate for the role, and do not present any danger or threat.
- If appropriate, identify a person to coordinate safeguarding across an organisation.
- Demonstrate a commitment to the principles that underpin the Prevent Duty, referring any issues or concerns to the Safeguarding Team at college
- Volunteering

- The college will instigate a Partnership Agreement for volunteering placements that will outline the responsibilities of external organisations and the college.
- The college will take a written volunteering opportunity form from the organisation that will also act as a checklist/registration form.
- The college will carry out inspection and initial meeting with the external organisation.
- The college will ensure that the organisation has adequate safeguarding procedures in place.
- The college will ensure that the organisation has adequate DBS checking procedures in place if appropriate.
- The college will help with pre-selection screening of student volunteers as part of referral process.
- The college will ensure that adequate induction and training are offered to volunteers.
- The college will ensure proper supervision, and will provide a dedicated contact for volunteers in case of concerns or difficulties.

15. Bullying and Harassment

The College is committed to providing a caring, friendly and safe environment for all our learners so they can learn in a relaxed and secure atmosphere. Bullying of any kind is unacceptable. If bullying does occur, all learners should be able to tell and know that incidents will be dealt with promptly and effectively. This means that anyone who knows that bullying is happening is expected to let staff know. Staff are required to inform Safeguarding Officers of any incidence of bullying as soon as they are aware that it has occurred. This refers to both in face and remote learning.

Further guidelines can be found in the Anti-Bullying & Harassment Procedure and the Prevention of Harassment, including Sexual Harassment Policy.

16. Supporting Vulnerable/at risk Learners

College staff are alerted to the potential need for early help and intervention for a child/young person who:

- is disabled and has specific additional needs
- has special educational needs (whether or not they have a statutory education, health and care plan)
- Those in care or care leavers
- is a young carer
- is showing signs of being drawn in to anti-social or criminal behaviour, including gang involvement and association with organised crime groups
- is frequently missing/goes missing from care or from home
- is misusing drugs or alcohol themselves
- is at risk of modern slavery, trafficking or exploitation

- is in a family circumstance presenting challenges for the child, such as substance abuse, adult mental health problems or domestic abuse
- has returned home to their family from care
- is showing early signs of abuse or neglect
- is at risk of being radicalised or exploited
- is a privately fostered child

Services and support are available in college to assist and support those students who are vulnerable or may be at risk. The Safeguarding Team, Progress Coaches and all tutors are trained to recognise signals that students may be struggling or may be experiencing difficulties. Full time students meet regularly with their Progress Coach to monitor their progress, attendance and general wellbeing. Swift referral can be made to support services such as the Welfare team, Learning Support team, as well as referral to external support services.

Evidence suggests that LGBTQ+ children and young people might be at increased risk of some forms of harm such as child sexual exploitation, online abuse and bullying (Safeguarding LGBTQ+ children and young people, NSPCC. 20/5/22)

Assessments to identify vulnerable learners (such as those in care, care leavers, young carers, learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities, learners with mental health problems, adults at risk, etc.) are undertaken prior to enrolment to ensure the students are adequately supported. The At Risk system enables staff to identify and closely monitor students.

Any unauthorised absence is followed up by Progress Coaches to check why the student was not in college. Any persistent absence is discussed with parents of under 18s. The unexplained absence of any child, young person or adult at risk should be referred to the Safeguarding Officers as their absence may be an indication of potential abuse or concern. The Safeguarding Officer will then contact appropriate external agencies and parents/carers. Attendance will also be tracked if students are working remotely (see Attendance and Punctuality Procedures)

The college has close working relationships with the Local Authorities' Virtual School to monitor vulnerable students, such as those in care and young carers. The appropriate member of the Safeguarding Team has regular meetings with officers from the Virtual School to monitor student progress and review the Personal Education Plan (PEP). The Safeguarding and Inclusion Managers retain detailed information in relation to children in care, their circumstances and social worker details.

The College recognises that Children and adults with special educational needs (SEN) and disabilities can face additional safeguarding challenges. During training reference is made to the additional barriers that can exist when recognising abuse and neglect in this group of children, such as:

- Assumptions that indicators of possible abuse such as behaviour, mood and injury relate to the child or adult disability without further exploration
- Children and adults with SEN and disabilities can be disproportionately impacted by things like bullying - without outwardly showing any signs

- Communication barriers and difficulties in overcoming these barriers

Students with Previous Criminal Convictions

Guidance regarding the recruitment of students who have previous criminal convictions, cautions or reprimands can be found in the Admissions Policy and Procedure.

17. Safeguarding 14-16 Students

Safeguarding arrangements and responsibilities for students studying on 14-16 provision at the college are undertaken on an individual basis dependent on the needs of the learner, in agreement with partner school, parent and local authority.

Procedures for ensuring that under 16 year olds are safe when undertaking work placement in the college are in place.

18. Visitors and Contractors

All visitors must sign in at Reception and wear a college visitor lanyard and ID badge whilst they are in college. Visitors will be asked to read and support the college's commitment to safeguarding our learners. They will be supervised around college as appropriate.

Contractors are issued with guidance on an annual basis to ensure they are aware of safeguarding and their responsibilities whilst in college. If appropriate, supervision or DBS checks for contractors will be arranged. The identity of contractors should be checked on arrival at the college.

19. Curriculum

The college will ensure learners are taught about safeguarding, including online, through teaching and learning opportunities. Children, young people and adults at risk can develop an understanding of why and how to keep safe. The Tutorial programme includes key topics such as, bullying, cyber bullying, internet safety, abuse, Prevent, British Values, Equality & Diversity, sexting, peer on peer, personal health and well-being and health and safety. Awareness raising begins at enrolment and induction involving students, staff and parents.

20. Safeguarding Information for Learners

All learners know that we have staff with responsibility for safeguarding and know who they are. We inform learners of whom they might talk to, their right to be listened to and what steps can be taken to protect them from harm. We make learners aware of these arrangements through appropriate tutorial provision, induction and information on Moodle.

College's arrangements for consulting with and listening to learners are clearly outlined in the Learner Involvement Policy. The college consults with learners to identify and address their safeguarding and health and safety concerns.

All learners will wear a college student lanyard and ID badge.

21. Partnership with Parents/Carers

The college shares a purpose with parents to keep children safe from harm and to have their welfare promoted. The college is committed to working with parents positively, openly and honestly ensuring that all parents are treated with respect, dignity and courtesy. The college respects parents' rights to privacy and confidentiality and will not share sensitive information unless given permission, or it is necessary to do so in order to protect a child.

The college will share with parents any concerns we may have about their child unless to do so may place a child at risk of harm. The college encourages parents to discuss any concerns they may have with the Safeguarding and Inclusion Manager or Progress Coach. Parents are made aware of our policies upon request and via the website.

22. Confidentiality

In order to meet the needs of children, young people and adults at risk, the College recognises the importance of information sharing between professionals and local agencies.¹⁴

Fears about sharing information cannot be allowed to stand in the way of the need to promote the welfare and protect the safety of children, young people and adults at risk. Inter-agency working and information sharing are vital in identifying and tackling all forms of abuse, it is clear they are especially important to identify and prevent child sexual exploitation.

All suspicions and investigations are kept confidential and shared only with those who need to know. Any information is shared under the guidance of the Local Safeguarding Partnerships. Consent to share information is obtained prior to information sharing, except where a young person or adult at risk is at risk from harm.

Electronic records are kept on the college's ProMonitor system, however these do not contain the details of referrals as this is confidential. Notes are made to show there has been Safeguarding staff involvement.

23. Written Records

All concerns, discussions and decisions made, and the reasons for those decisions, should be recorded in writing.

Records should include:

- a clear and comprehensive summary of the concern;
- details of how the concern was followed up and resolved;
- a note of any action taken, decisions reached and the outcome

The nominated member of staff shall retain a copy of:

¹⁴ Information sharing: Advice for practitioners providing safeguarding services to children, young people, parents and carers
March 2015

- Any reports
- Any notes, memoranda or other correspondence dealing with the matter
- Any other relevant materials

The nominated member of staff will also keep copies of Children in Care Statutory Reviews, risk assessments, YJS behaviour plans, etc.

Records are electronic where possible and held on a shared drive, with limited user access. Paper copies will be securely destroyed once electronic versions are uploaded.

Copies of paper reports, notes etc. if held are stored in a securely locked filing cabinet within the college archives, keys are held by the Dedicated Safeguarding Lead and the Deputy Safeguarding Lead. They are kept for a minimum period of 7 years (or until learners reach the age of 25). Copies of reports regarding allegations made against staff shall be kept securely sealed by the Principal until the member of staff's normal retirement age or for a period of 10 years from the date of allegation if that is longer.

24. Legislation and Guidance

These procedures are driven by Government legislation and guidance available from the Director of Student Support and Inclusion.

Reporting arrangements:

The college arrangements continue in line with our Safeguarding Policy.

We will be operating during normal business hours, 8.30am – 5pm (Mon – Thurs) and 8.30am – 4.30pm (Friday).

We have confirmed the arrangements to contact the LADO at the local authorities remain unchanged:

- Warrington: LADO@warrington.gov.uk
- Cheshire West: safeguardinglado@cheshirewestandchester.gov.uk

Staff will continue to follow the safeguarding procedures and advise the safeguarding leads immediately about concerns they have about any child, whether in college or not.

If you have access to ProMonitor please continue to log confidential comments as you normally would. If you do not have access to ProMonitor to log confidential comments please email concerns to safeguarding@wvr.ac.uk where a member of the safeguarding team will respond to the concern and log on ProMonitor. This email address is monitored by all safeguarding staff.

Normal safeguarding procedures apply for referrals to children's services. This contact will go through a member of the safeguarding team (listed above) who will follow appropriate measures in seeking the appropriate and necessary support. Out of hours guidance can be found in the Safeguarding Guidance 2019-20 and also here:

Allegations or concerns about staff

With such different arrangements in place, young people could be at greater risk of online abuse. We remind all staff to maintain the view that 'it could happen here' and to immediately report any concern, no matter how small, to the safeguarding team.

Any agency staff or volunteers working with students during college closure will complete an induction to ensure they are aware of the risks and know how to take action if they are concerned.

New staff or volunteers

All new starters must have an online induction. They must read the college Safeguarding and Prevent Policy including this annex, the Student Disciplinary and Positive Behaviour Management Procedures, the Whistleblowing Procedures and the Staff Code of Conduct. The DSL or deputy will ensure new recruits know who to contact if they have concerns about a child or young person and ensure that new starters are familiar with the child protection procedure. All new starters or volunteers will be required to confirm that they have read Part 1 and Annex A of Keeping Children Safe in Education

Child on child abuse (Formally peer on peer)

We recognise the potential for abuse to go on between young people, especially in the context of a college closure or partial closure. Our staff will remain vigilant to the signs of child-on-child abuse, including those between young people who are not currently attending our provision. Extra care should be taken where groups have mixed age, developmental stages, are attending other education establishments as an interim measure and similar. When making contact with these families our staff may ask about relationships between learners.

Staff can access further guidance here:

Safeguarding and remote education - GOV.UK (www.gov.uk) and Providing remote education: guidance for schools - GOV.UK (www.gov.uk). The NSPCC also provide helpful advice - Undertaking remote teaching safely.

Students accessing remote learning will receive guidance on keeping safe online and know how to raise concerns with the college, Childline, the UK Safer Internet Centre and CEOP.

Mental Health

Restrictions to movement and contact with other people means pupils are more likely to be at risk of mental health problems. Individual colleges should make pupils and their families aware of where further support can be found. The Department for Education have produced guidance to support parents:

Parents and Carers

Parents and carers will receive information about keeping students safe online with peers, the College, other education offers they may have access to and the wider internet community. We have set out the College's approach, including the online platform which students will be asked to access. We have also provided details on the College staff members who students will be interacting with online.

Parents will be offered the following links:

Appendix A – DFE Keeping Children Safe in Education 2025

Part one: Safeguarding information for all staff

What school and college staff should know and do

A child centred and coordinated approach to safeguarding

1. Schools and colleges and their staff are an important part of the wider safeguarding system for children. This system is described in the statutory guidance Working Together to Safeguard Children.
2. Safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children is everyone's responsibility. 'Children' includes everyone under the age of 18. Everyone who comes into contact with children and their families has a role to play. In order to fulfil this responsibility effectively, all practitioners should make sure their approach is child centred. This means that they should consider, at all times, what is in the best interests of the child.
3. No single practitioner can have a full picture of a child's needs and circumstances. If children and families are to receive the right help at the right time, everyone who comes into contact with them has a role to play in identifying concerns, sharing information and taking prompt action. Safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children is defined for the purposes of this guidance as:
 - Providing help and support to meet the needs of children as soon as problems emerge
 - protecting children from maltreatment, whether that is within or outside the home, including online
 - preventing the impairment of children's mental and physical health or development
 - ensuring that children grow up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care
 - taking action to enable all children to have the best outcomes.

The role of school and college staff

4. School and college staff are particularly important, as they are in a position to identify concerns early, provide help for children, promote children's welfare and prevent concerns from escalating.
5. All staff have a responsibility to provide a safe environment in which children can learn.

6. All staff should be prepared to identify children who may benefit from early help.⁴ Early help means providing support as soon as a problem emerges at any point in a child's life, from the foundation years through to the teenage years.
7. Any staff member who has any concerns about a child's welfare should follow the processes set out in paragraphs 49-55. Staff should expect to support social workers and other agencies following any referral.
8. Every school and college should have a designated safeguarding lead who will provide support to staff to carry out their safeguarding duties and who will liaise closely with other services such as local authority children's social care.
9. The designated safeguarding lead (and any deputies) are most likely to have a complete safeguarding picture and be the most appropriate person to advise on the response to safeguarding concerns.
10. The Teachers' Standards 2012 state that teachers (which includes headteachers) should safeguard children's wellbeing and maintain public trust in the teaching profession as part of their professional duties.⁵

What school and college staff need to know

11. All staff should be aware of systems within their school or college which support safeguarding, and these should be explained to them as part of staff induction. This should include the:
 - child protection policy (which should amongst other things also include the policy and procedures to deal with child-on-child abuse)
 - behaviour policy (which should include measures to prevent bullying, including cyberbullying, prejudice-based and discriminatory bullying).⁶
 - staff behaviour policy (sometimes called a code of conduct) should amongst other things, include low-level concerns, allegations against staff and whistleblowing
 - safeguarding response to children who are absent from education, particularly on repeat occasions and/or prolonged periods and

⁴ Detailed information on early help can be found in Working Together to Safeguard Children.

⁵ Teachers' standards - GOV.UK \(www.gov.uk\)

⁶ All schools are required to have a behaviour policy (full details are here). If a college chooses to have a behaviour policy it should be provided to staff as described above.

- role of the designated safeguarding lead (including the identity of the designated safeguarding lead and any deputies).

Copies of policies and a copy of Part one (or Annex A, if appropriate) of this document should be provided to all staff at induction.

12. All staff should receive appropriate safeguarding and child protection training (including online safety which, amongst other things, includes an understanding of the expectations, applicable roles and responsibilities in relation to filtering and monitoring – see para 140 for further information) at induction. The training should be regularly updated. In addition, all staff should receive safeguarding and child protection (including online safety) updates (for example, via email, e-bulletins, and staff meetings), as required, and at least annually, to continue to provide them with relevant skills and knowledge to safeguard children effectively.

13. All staff should be aware of their local early help process and understand their role in it.

14. All staff should be aware of the process for making referrals to local authority children's social care and for statutory assessments.⁷ under the Children Act 1989, especially section 17 (children in need) and section 47 (a child suffering, or likely to suffer, significant harm) that may follow a referral, along with the role they might be expected to play in such assessments.

15. All staff should know what to do if a child tells them they are being abused, exploited, or neglected. Staff should know how to manage the requirement to maintain an appropriate level of confidentiality. This means only involving those who need to be involved, such as the designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy) and local authority children's social care. Staff should never promise a child that they will not tell anyone about a report of any form of abuse, as this may ultimately not be in the best interests of the child.

16. All staff should be able to reassure victims that they are being taken seriously and that they will be supported and kept safe. A victim should never be given the impression that they are creating a problem by reporting any form of abuse and/or neglect. Nor should a victim ever be made to feel ashamed for making a report.

17. All staff should be aware that children may not feel ready or know how to tell someone that they are being abused, exploited, or neglected, and/or they may not recognise their experiences as harmful. For example, children may feel embarrassed, humiliated, or are being threatened. This could be due to their vulnerability, disability and/or sexual orientation or language barriers. This should not prevent staff from having a professional curiosity and speaking to the designated safeguarding lead if they have concerns about a child. It is also important that staff determine how best to build trusted relationships which facilitate communication with children and young people.

What school and college staff should look out for

Early help

18. Any child may benefit from early help, but all school and college staff should be particularly alert to the potential need for early help for a child who:

- is disabled or has certain health conditions and has specific additional needs
- has special educational needs (whether or not they have a statutory Education, Health and Care plan)
- has a mental health need
- is a young carer
- is showing signs of being drawn in to anti-social or criminal behaviour, including gang involvement and association with organised crime groups or county lines
- is frequently missing/goes missing from education, home or care,
- has experienced multiple suspensions, is at risk of being permanently excluded from schools, colleges and in Alternative Provision or a Pupil Referral Unit.
- is at risk of modern slavery, trafficking, sexual and/or criminal exploitation
- is at risk of being radicalised or exploited
- has a parent or carer in custody, or is affected by parental offending
- is in a family circumstance presenting challenges for the child, such as drug and alcohol misuse, adult mental health issues and domestic abuse
- is misusing alcohol and other drugs themselves
- is at risk of so-called 'honour'-based abuse such as Female Genital Mutilation or Forced Marriage
- is a privately fostered child.

19. All staff should be aware of the indicators of abuse, neglect and exploitation (see below), understanding that children can be at risk of harm inside and outside of the school/college, inside and outside of home, and online. Exercising professional curiosity and knowing what to look for is vital for the early identification of abuse and neglect so that staff are able to identify cases of children who may be in need of help or protection.
20. All school and college staff should be aware that abuse, neglect, exploitation, and safeguarding issues are rarely standalone events and cannot be covered by one definition or one label alone. In most cases, multiple issues will overlap.
21. All staff, but especially the designated safeguarding lead (and deputies) should consider whether children are at risk of abuse or exploitation in situations outside their families. Extra familial harms take a variety of different forms and children can be vulnerable to multiple harms including (but not limited to) sexual abuse (including harassment and exploitation), domestic abuse in their own intimate relationships (teenage relationship abuse), criminal exploitation, serious youth violence, county lines and radicalisation.
22. All staff should be aware that technology is a significant component in many safeguarding and wellbeing issues. Children are at risk of abuse and other risks online as well as face to face. In many cases abuse and other risks will take place concurrently both online and offline. Children can also abuse other children online, this can take the form of abusive, harassing, and misogynistic/misandrist messages, the non-consensual sharing of indecent images, especially around chat groups, and the sharing of abusive images and pornography to those who do not want to receive such content.
23. In all cases, if staff are unsure, they should always speak to the designated safeguarding lead or a deputy.

Indicators of abuse and neglect

24. Abuse: a form of maltreatment of a child. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm or by failing to act to prevent harm. Harm can include ill treatment that is not physical as well as the impact of witnessing ill treatment of others. This can be particularly relevant, for example, in relation to the impact on children of all forms of domestic abuse, including where they see, hear or experience its effects. Children may be abused in a family or in an institutional or community setting by those known to them or, more rarely, by others. Abuse can take place wholly online, or technology may be used to facilitate offline abuse. Children may be abused by an adult or adults or by another child or children.

25. Physical abuse: a form of abuse which may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.
26. Emotional abuse: the persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve conveying to a child that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning or preventing the child from participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyberbullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, although it may occur alone.
27. Sexual abuse: involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving violence, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example rape or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing, and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse. Sexual abuse can take place online, and technology can be used to facilitate offline abuse. Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children. The sexual abuse of children by other children is a specific safeguarding issue in education and all staff should be aware of it and of their school or college's policy and procedures for dealing with it.
28. Neglect: the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect may occur during pregnancy, for example, as a result of maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to: provide adequate food, clothing and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment); protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger; ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate caregivers); or ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment. It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.

Safeguarding issues

29. All staff should have an awareness of safeguarding issues that can put children at risk of harm. Behaviours linked to issues such as drug taking and/or alcohol misuse, unexplainable and/or persistent absences from education, serious violence (including that linked to county lines), radicalisation and consensual and non-consensual sharing of nude and semi-nude images and/or videos.⁸ can be signs that children are at risk. Below are some safeguarding issues all staff should be aware of.

Additional information on these safeguarding issues and information on other safeguarding issues is included in Annex B.

Child-on-child abuse

30. All staff should be aware that children can abuse other children (often referred to as child-on-child abuse), and that it can happen both inside and outside of school or college and online. All staff should be clear as to the school or college's policy and procedures with regard to child-on-child abuse and the important role they have to play in preventing it and responding where they believe a child may be at risk from it.

31. All staff should understand that even if there are no reports in their schools or colleges it does not mean it is not happening. It may be the case that abuse is not being reported. As such it is important that when staff have any concerns regarding child-on-child abuse they should speak to their designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy).

32. It is essential that all staff understand the importance of challenging inappropriate behaviours between children that are abusive in nature. Examples of which are listed below. Downplaying certain behaviours, for example dismissing sexual harassment as "just banter", "just having a laugh", "part of growing up" or "boys being boys" can lead to a culture of unacceptable behaviours, an unsafe environment for children and in worst case scenarios a culture that normalises abuse leading to children accepting it as normal and not coming forward to report it.

⁸ Consensual image sharing, especially between older children of the same age, may require a different response. It might not be abusive – but children still need to know it is illegal- whilst non-consensual is illegal and abusive. UKCIS provides detailed advice about sharing of nudes and semi-nude images and videos

33. Child-on-child abuse is most likely to include, but may not be limited to:

- bullying (including cyberbullying, prejudice-based and discriminatory bullying)
- abuse in intimate personal relationships between children (sometimes known as ‘teenage relationship abuse’)
- physical abuse such as hitting, kicking, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm (this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages physical abuse)
- sexual violence⁹ such as rape, assault by penetration and sexual assault; (this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages sexual violence)
- sexual harassment¹⁰ such as sexual comments, remarks, jokes and online sexual harassment, which may be standalone or part of a broader pattern of abuse
- causing someone to engage in sexual activity without consent, such as forcing someone to strip, touch themselves sexually, or to engage in sexual activity with a third party
- consensual and non-consensual sharing of nude and semi-nude images and/or videos¹¹ (also known as sexting or youth produced sexual imagery)
- upskirting¹² which typically involves taking a picture under a person’s clothing without their permission, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress, or alarm, and
- initiation/hazing type violence and rituals (this could include activities involving harassment, abuse or humiliation used as a way of initiating a person into a group and may also include an online element).

⁹ For further information about sexual violence see Part 5 and Annex B.

¹⁰ For further information about sexual harassment see Part 5 and Annex B.

¹¹ UKCIS guidance: Sharing nudes and semi-nudes advice for education settings

¹² For further information about ‘upskirting’ see Annex B.

34. Both CCE and CSE are forms of abuse that occur where an individual or group takes advantage of an imbalance in power to coerce, manipulate or deceive a child into taking part in criminal or sexual activity. It may involve an exchange for something the victim needs or wants, and/or for the financial advantage or increased status of the perpetrator or facilitator and/or through violence or the threat of violence. CCE and CSE can affect children, both male and female and can include children who have been moved (commonly referred to as trafficking) for the purpose of exploitation.

Child Criminal Exploitation (CCE)¹³

35. Some specific forms of CCE can include children being forced or manipulated into transporting drugs or money through county lines, working in cannabis factories, shoplifting or pickpocketing. They can also be forced or manipulated into committing vehicle crime or threatening/committing serious violence to others.

36. Children can become trapped by this type of exploitation, as perpetrators can threaten victims (and their families) with violence or entrap and coerce them into debt. They may be coerced into carrying weapons such as knives or begin to carry a knife for a sense of protection from harm from others. As children involved in criminal exploitation often commit crimes themselves, their vulnerability as victims is not always recognised by adults and professionals, (particularly older children), and they are not treated as victims despite the harm they have experienced. They may still have been criminally exploited even if the activity appears to be something they have agreed or consented to.

37. It is important to note that the experience of girls who are criminally exploited can be very different to that of boys. The indicators may not be the same, however professionals should be aware that girls are at risk of criminal exploitation too. It is also important to note that both boys and girls being criminally exploited may be at higher risk of sexual exploitation.

Child Sexual Exploitation (CSE)

38. CSE is a form of child sexual abuse. Sexual abuse may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example, rape or oral sex) or non- penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing, and touching outside clothing. It may include non-contact activities, such as involving children in the production of sexual images, forcing children to look at sexual images or watch sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways or grooming a child in preparation for abuse including via the internet.

39. CSE can occur over time or be a one-off occurrence and may happen without the child's immediate knowledge for example through others sharing videos or images of them on social media.

40. CSE can affect any child who has been coerced into engaging in sexual activities. This includes 16- and 17-year-olds who can legally consent to have sex. Some children do not realise they are being exploited and may believe they are in a genuine romantic relationship.

Domestic Abuse

41. Domestic abuse can encompass a wide range of behaviours and may be a single incident or a pattern of incidents. That abuse can be, but is not limited to, psychological, physical, sexual, financial or emotional. Children can be victims of domestic abuse. They may see, hear, or experience the effects of abuse at home and/or suffer domestic abuse in their own intimate relationships (teenage relationship abuse). All of which can have a detrimental and long-term impact on their health, well-being, development, and ability to learn.

Female Genital Mutilation (FGM)

42. Whilst all staff should speak to the designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy) with regard to any concerns about female genital mutilation (FGM), there is a specific legal duty on teachers.¹⁴ If a teacher, in the course of their work in the profession, discovers that an act of FGM appears to have been carried out on a girl under the age of 18, the teacher must report this to the police. See page 160 for further information.

Mental Health

43. All staff should be aware that mental health problems can, in some cases, be an indicator that a child has suffered or is at risk of suffering abuse, neglect or exploitation.

¹⁴ Under section 5B(11) (a) of the Female Genital Mutilation Act 2003, "teacher" means, in relation to England, a person within section 141A(1) of the Education Act 2002 (persons employed or engaged to carry out teaching work at schools and other institutions in England).

44. Only appropriately trained professionals should attempt to make a diagnosis of a mental health problem. Education staff, however, are well placed to observe children day-to-day and identify those whose behaviour suggests that they may be experiencing a mental health problem or be at risk of developing one. Schools and colleges can access a range of advice to help them identify children in need of extra mental health support, this includes working with external agencies.

45. If staff have a mental health concern about a child that is also a safeguarding concern, immediate action should be taken to follow their school or college's child protection policy and by speaking to the designated safeguarding lead or a deputy.

Serious violence

46. All staff should be aware of the indicators, which may signal children are at risk from, or are involved with, serious violent crime. These may include increased absence from school or college, a change in friendships or relationships with older individuals or groups, a significant decline in educational performance, signs of self-harm or a significant change in wellbeing, or signs of assault or unexplained injuries. Unexplained gifts or new possessions could also indicate that children have been approached by, or are involved with, individuals associated with criminal networks or gangs and may be at risk of criminal exploitation.

Additional information and support

47. Departmental advice What to do if you're worried a child is being abused: advice for practitioners provides more information on understanding and identifying abuse and neglect. Examples of potential indicators of abuse and neglect are highlighted throughout that advice and will be particularly helpful for school and college staff. The NSPCC website also provides useful additional information on abuse and neglect and what to look out for.

48. Annex B contains important additional information about specific forms of abuse, exploitation and safeguarding issues. School and college leaders and those staff who work directly with children should read Annex B.

What school and college staff should do if they have concerns about a child

49. Staff working with children are advised to maintain an attitude of 'it could happen here' where safeguarding is concerned. When concerned about the welfare of a child, staff should always act in the best interests of the child.

50. If staff have any concerns about a child's welfare, they should act on them immediately. See page 23 for a flow chart setting out the process for staff when they have concerns about a child.
51. If staff have a concern, they should follow their own organisation's child protection policy and speak to the designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy).
52. Options will then include:
- managing any support for the child internally via the school or college's own pastoral support processes
 - undertaking an early help assessment.¹⁵ or
 - making a referral to statutory services.¹⁶ for example as the child could be in need, is in need or is suffering, or likely to suffer harm.
53. The designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy) should always be available to discuss safeguarding concerns. If in exceptional circumstances, the designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy) is not available, this should not delay appropriate action being taken. Staff should consider speaking to a member of the senior leadership team and/or take advice from local authority children's social care. In these circumstances, any action taken should be shared with the designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy) as soon as is practically possible.
54. Staff should not assume a colleague, or another professional will take action and share information that might be critical in keeping children safe. They should be mindful that early information sharing is vital for the effective identification, assessment, and allocation of appropriate service provision, whether this is when problems first emerge, or where a child is already known to local authority children's social care (such as a child in need or a child with a protection plan). Information sharing: advice for practitioners providing safeguarding services to children, young people, parents and carers supports staff who have to make decisions about sharing information. This advice includes the seven golden rules for sharing information and considerations with regard to the Data Protection Act 2018 (DPA) and UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR).

¹⁵ Further information on early help assessments, provision of early help services and accessing services is in Working Together to Safeguard Children.

¹⁶ Working Together to Safeguard Children sets out that the safeguarding partners should publish a threshold document that should include the criteria, including the level of need, for when a case should be referred to local authority children's social care for assessment and for statutory services under section 17 and 47. Local authorities, with their partners, should develop and publish local protocols for assessment. A local protocol should set out clear arrangements for how cases will be managed once a child is referred into local authority children's social care.

55. DPA and UK GDPR do not prevent the sharing of information for the purposes of keeping children safe and promoting their welfare. If in any doubt about sharing information, staff should speak to the designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy). Fears about sharing information must not be allowed to stand in the way of the need to safeguard and promote the welfare of children.

Early help assessment

56. If early help is appropriate, the designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy) will generally lead on liaising with other agencies and setting up an inter-agency assessment as appropriate. Staff may be required to support other agencies and professionals in an early help assessment, in some cases acting as the lead practitioner. Further guidance on effective assessment of the need for early help can be found in Working Together to Safeguard Children. Any such cases should be kept under constant review and consideration given to a referral to local authority children's social care for assessment for statutory services if the child's situation does not appear to be improving or is getting worse.

Statutory children's social care assessments and services

57. Where a child is suffering, or is likely to suffer from harm, it is important that a referral to local authority children's social care and if appropriate the police, (see when to call the police: guidance for schools and colleges \(npcc.police.uk\)) is made immediately. Referrals should follow the local referral process.

58. Local authority children's social care assessments should consider where children are being harmed in contexts outside of the home¹⁷, so it is important that schools and colleges provide as much information as possible as part of the referral process. This will allow any assessment to consider all the available evidence and enable a contextual approach to address such harm. Additional information is available here: Contextual Safeguarding.

59. The online tool Report child abuse to your local council directs to the relevant local authority children's social care contact details.

¹⁷ See working together for further information about extra-familial harms and environments outside the family home

Children in need

60. A child in need is defined under the Children Act 1989 as a child who is unlikely to achieve or maintain a reasonable level of health or development, or whose health and development is likely to be significantly or further impaired, without the provision of services; or a child who is disabled. Local authorities are required to provide services for children in need for the purposes of safeguarding and promoting their welfare. Children in need may be assessed under section 17 of the Children Act 1989.

Children suffering or likely to suffer significant harm:

61. Local authorities, with the help of other organisations as appropriate, have a duty to make enquiries under section 47 of the Children Act 1989 if they have reasonable cause to suspect that a child is suffering, or is likely to suffer, significant harm. Such enquiries enable them to decide whether they should take any action to safeguard and promote the child's welfare and must be initiated where there are concerns about maltreatment. This includes all forms of abuse, neglect and exploitation.

What will the local authority do?

62. Within one working day of a referral being made, a local authority social worker should acknowledge its receipt to the referrer and make a decision about the next steps and the type of response that is required. This will include determining whether:

- the child requires immediate protection and urgent action is required
- any services are required by the child and family and what type of services
- the child is in need and should be assessed under section 17 of the Children Act 1989. Working Together to Safeguard Children provides details of the assessment process
- there is reasonable cause to suspect the child is suffering or likely to suffer significant harm, and whether enquiries must be made, and the child assessed under section 47 of the Children Act 1989. Working Together to Safeguard Children provides details of the assessment process, and
- further specialist assessments are required to help the local authority to decide what further action to take.

63. The referrer should follow up if this information is not forthcoming.

64. If social workers decide to carry out a statutory assessment, staff should do everything they can to support that assessment (supported by the designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy) as required).
65. If, after a referral, the child's situation does not appear to be improving, the referrer should consider following local escalation procedures to ensure their concerns have been addressed and, most importantly, that the child's situation improves.

Record keeping

66. All concerns, discussions and decisions made, and the reasons for those decisions, should be recorded in writing. This will also help if/when responding to any complaints about the way a case has been handled by the school or college. Information should be kept confidential and stored securely. It is good practice to keep concerns and referrals in a separate child protection file for each child.

Records should include:

- a clear and comprehensive summary of the concern
- details of how the concern was followed up and resolved, and
- a note of any action taken, decisions reached and the outcome.

67. If in doubt about recording requirements, staff should discuss with the designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy).

Why is all of this important?

68. It is important for children to receive the right help at the right time to address safeguarding risks, prevent issues escalating and to promote children's welfare. Research and local child safeguarding practice reviews have repeatedly shown the dangers of failing to take effective action.¹⁸ Further information about local child safeguarding practice can be found in Working Together to Safeguard Children. Examples of poor practice include:

- failing to act on and refer the early signs of abuse and neglect
- poor record keeping
- failing to listen to the views of the child

¹⁸An analysis of serious case reviews can be found at gov.uk/government/publications/serious-case-reviews-analysis-lessons-and-challenges

- failing to re-assess concerns when situations do not improve
- not sharing information with the right people within and between agencies
- sharing information too slowly, and
- a lack of challenge to those who appear not to be taking action.

What school and college staff should do if they have a safeguarding concern or an allegation about another staff member

69. Schools and colleges should have processes and procedures in place to manage any safeguarding concern or allegation (no matter how small) about staff members (including supply staff, volunteers, and contractors).

70. If staff have a safeguarding concern or an allegation of harming or posing a risk of harm to children is made about another member of staff (including supply staff, volunteers, and contractors), then:

- this should be referred to the headteacher or principal
- where there is a concern/allegation about the headteacher or principal, this should be referred to the chair of governors, chair of the management committee or proprietor of an independent school, and
- in the event of a concern/allegation about the headteacher, where the headteacher is also the sole proprietor of an independent school, or a situation where there is a conflict of interest in reporting the matter to the headteacher, this should be reported directly to the local authority designated officer(s) LADO(s). Details of your local LADO should be easily accessible on your local authority's website.

71. If staff have a safeguarding concern or an allegation about another member of staff (including supply staff, volunteers or contractors) that does not meet the harm threshold, then this should be shared in accordance with the school or college low-level concerns policy. Further details can be found in Part four of this guidance.

What school or college staff should do if they have concerns about safeguarding practices within the school or college

72. All staff and volunteers should feel able to raise concerns about poor or unsafe practice and potential failures in the school or college's safeguarding provision and know that such concerns will be taken seriously by the senior leadership team.

73. Appropriate whistleblowing procedures should be put in place for such concerns to be raised with the school or college's senior leadership team.

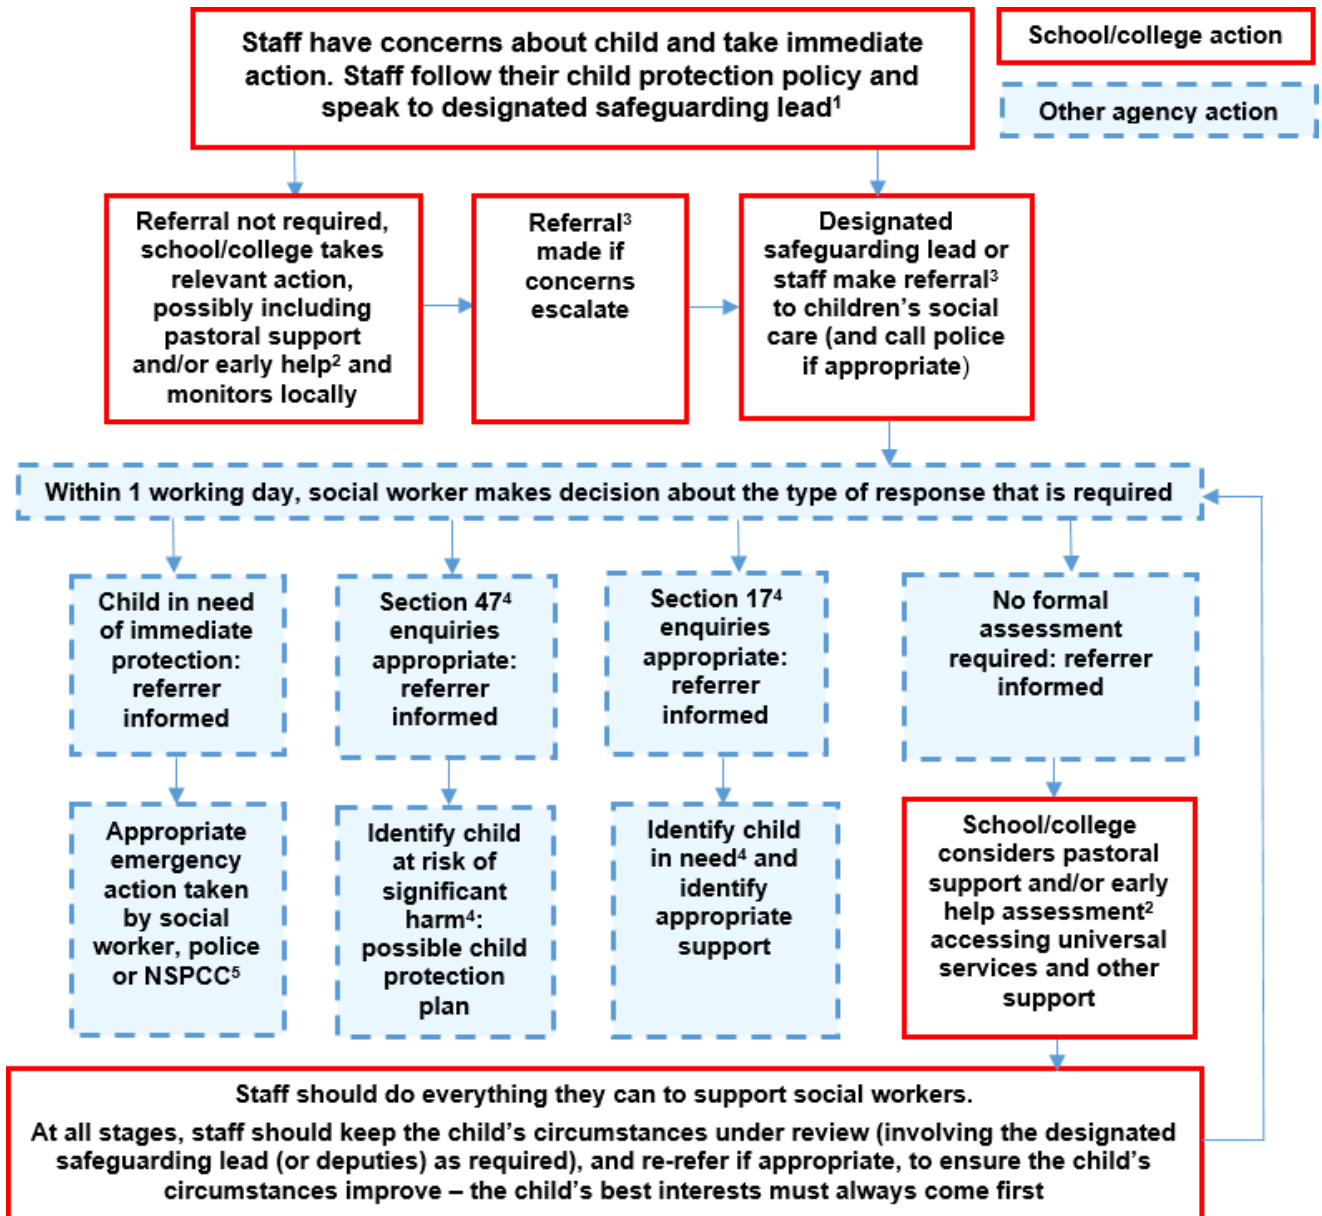

74. Where a staff member feels unable to raise an issue with their employer, or feels that their genuine concerns are not being addressed, other whistleblowing channels are open to them:

- general advice on whistleblowing can be found at whistleblowing for employees
- the NSPCC Whistleblowing Advice Line is available as an alternative route for staff who do not feel able to raise concerns regarding child protection failures internally, or have concerns about the way a concern is being handled by their school or college. Staff can call 0800 028 0285 – and the line is available from 08:00 to 20:00 Monday to Friday , and 09:00 to 18:00 at weekends. The email address is help@nspcc.org.uk¹⁹

¹⁹ Alternatively, staff can write to: National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children (NSPCC), Weston House, 42 Curtain, Road, London EC2A 3NH.

Safeguarding & Prevent Policy and Procedure

Actions where there are concerns about a child

¹ In cases which also involve a concern or an allegation of abuse against a staff member, see Part four of this guidance.

² Early help means providing support as soon as a problem emerges at any point in a child's life. Where a child would benefit from co-ordinated early help, an early help inter-agency assessment should be arranged. Working Together to Safeguard Children provides detailed guidance on the early help process. ³ Referrals should follow the process set out in the local threshold document and local protocol for assessment. See Working Together to Safeguard Children.

⁴ Under the Children Act 1989, local authorities are required to provide services for children in need for the purposes of safeguarding and promoting their welfare. Children in need may be assessed under section 17 of the Children Act 1989. Under section 47 of the Children Act 1989, where a local authority has reasonable cause to suspect that a child is suffering or likely to suffer significant harm, it has a duty to make enquiries to decide whether to take action to safeguard or promote the child's welfare. Full details are in Working Together to Safeguard Children.

⁵ This could include applying for an Emergency Protection Order (EPO).

Appendix B - Radicalisation & PREVENT Strategy

'The Prevent Duty' - All schools and colleges are subject to a duty under section 26 of the Counter Terrorism Act 2015, in the exercise of their functions, to have 'due regard' to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism. This is known as the Prevent duty.

1) Introduction

The College is committed to providing students with the necessary skills and knowledge to keep themselves and others safe. Education, like other key sectors, has a responsibility to promote values of openness and tolerance and to facilitate free debate which is characteristic of being a British citizen. It is in this context that the College provides a 'Radicalisation and PREVENT Strategy'.

The College's strategy is formed from the National Strategy known as CONTEST. It has four elements Pursue, Protect, Prepare and PREVENT. The area in which colleges have the most influence is PREVENT which aims to stop people becoming terrorists or supporting terrorism.

2) Context

The aim of this strategy is to:

- Identify and assess the risks that learners may face
- Ensure external speakers and events are appropriately risk assessed
- Develop and regularly update the Prevent action plan in order to mitigate risk
- Establish effective partnerships in order to comply with the Prevent duty
- Ensure appropriate training is available for all staff across the College
- Embed the Prevent duty through the exemplifying of British Values throughout curriculum and the tutorial process
- Ensure appropriate welfare support is in place for learners
- Ensure existing policies and procedures including Equality and Diversity and the IT policies make specific reference to the duty
- Appropriate steps are taken to ensure the monitoring and enforcement of the duty
- Ensure there is a clear response to concerns, including referral to Channel
- Develop an awareness of PREVENT in the College
- Recognise current practice which contributes to the PREVENT agenda
- Identify areas for improvement
- To contribute to the development of a coordinated action plan

3) Local Partnerships

The College maintains partnerships, including Local Authorities, the Cheshire Counter Terrorism Unit and Prevent Police Officer to receive regular updates in order to keep staff and students safe and well informed.

4) College

PREVENT sits within the realm of the college's Safeguarding Policy. All staff are trained and regularly updated on the Policy and associated professional practice and conduct.

Whilst PREVENT sits within the College Safeguarding Policy and procedures, it is also integral to other policies, such as:

- Equality and Diversity
- IT Policies
- Health and Safety
- Anti-Bullying
- Tutorial

Issues related to radicalisation are included in safeguarding reports to Corporation.

5) Staff

All staff receive awareness training on an on-going basis ensuring that they are up to date with PREVENT matters.

All staff are responsible for responding appropriately to students with challenging and inappropriate behaviour. Staff will be supported and use the skills required to challenge appropriately, as part of this strategy.

6) Students

Students will receive awareness training on radicalisation and how to protect themselves through the tutorial system. British Values are embedded and promoted throughout all aspects of learners programmes at College.

Appendix C - Keeping Apprentices Safe

At Warrington and Vale Royal College we take our responsibility to ensure the safety of our students very seriously. This also extends to our students who have chosen to study as part of an apprenticeship programme. We are committed to working with our employers and apprentices to create a fantastic learning experience, and to ensure the highest levels of apprentice safety and wellbeing.

Our Approach

The college has a clear commitment to safeguarding which is overseen by a dedicated safeguarding team led by the Dedicated Safeguarding Lead, currently the Director of Student Support. As a team they promote and implement the Safeguarding Policy, ensuring it is reviewed regularly and acted upon.

Additionally all members of staff including those working with apprentices are trained in safeguarding.

Employers Duty

Employers have a duty to comply with all current and future UK legislation and statutory responsibilities. There is a particular expectation that an employer should take responsibility for an apprentice's welfare in the workplace and to also seek appropriate advice when they feel an apprentice may be at risk in their personal lives.

We appreciate that for many organisations this can be a confusing and complex area. The following information is made available to employers and explains the different support college provides, and also some of the ways in which employers can incorporate information into their current internal procedures.

1. Safeguarding

Safeguarding is the overarching term used to describe the protection of the health, wellbeing and human rights of individuals. Under legislation, all parties involved in an apprenticeship have to take reasonable action to minimise risks to apprentices. This includes aspects of the apprentice's experience, both in and outside of the workplace, as well as during attendance at college.

Many areas are considered to fall under the definition of safeguarding, including:

- Abuse (emotional and physical)
- Bullying (including online)
- Discrimination
- Forced Marriage
- Mental Health
- Neglect and Self-Harm
- Radicalisation and Extremism

The College's Role:

- Ensure that employers are aware of their safeguarding obligations, through guidance and training.
- Ensure apprentices have an awareness of safeguarding and understand how to access college support services.
- Provide safeguarding training for all college employees working with apprentices
- Ensure college staff working with young and vulnerable people are subject to an enhanced Disclosure and Barring Service check.
- Maintain open channels of communication with each employer. Apprentices may act very differently depending upon their environment, and may feel more comfortable discussing sensitive issues with different people.

The Employer's Role:

- Familiarise themselves with relevant government legislation.
- Take appropriate steps to understand what safeguarding means in practice at their organisation, in the context of the responsibilities they have for the people they employ.
- Ensure that any staff working with apprentices in a position of trust are appropriate for the role and do not present any danger or threat.
- If possible, coordinate safeguarding across an organisation.

2. Prevent

As part of the Terrorism and Security Act 2015, colleges are required to pay 'due regard to the need to prevent individuals from being drawn into terrorism'.

There is no single way of identifying a person who may be vulnerable to extremist ideology and it is often the culmination of a number of influences. These can include, family, friends or relationships they have made online. Extremism can include non-violent action.

All apprentices studying on a programme at college will be expected to attend a compulsory session in which these issues will be covered.

The College's Role

- Provide relevant training for college staff so that they understand the obligations the college has under the Prevent Duty and how to manage risks and concerns.
- Have clear procedures in place so that any concerns can immediately be brought to specialist attention.
- Provide a forum for apprentices to explore these matters.
- Provide a contact for any information regarding the Prevent duty.
- Ensure apprentices are able to express views in non-extremist ways and create an environment and encourages respectful free speech.

The Employer's Role

- Demonstrate a commitment to the principles that underpin the Prevent Duty
- Seek specialist support if any concerns are raised.

3. British Values

An important part of Prevent is also the promotion of British values. These are the norm that shape our society and which are enshrined in law, through legislation such as the Equality Act 2010.

British values are described as:

- Democracy
- The rule of law
- Individual liberty and mutual respect
- Tolerance for those with different faiths and beliefs

Apprentices are encouraged to explore ideas in a context where these values are recognised and respected.

The College's Role

- To promote British values throughout an apprentice's programme
- Provided a dedicated programme of study which defines and explores British values and how they influence our society.
- Create opportunities for apprentices to apply their learning to relevant situations and contexts.
- Encourage apprentices to respect each other and their differences, including with regard to protected characteristics outlined in the Equality Act 2010.

The Employer's Role

- Demonstrate a commitment to British values
- Adhere to the requirements of the Equality Act 2010.

4. Safeguarding in Practice

The college is available to you as a resource and if you find that you need support managing a particular scenario please contact us. Some apprentices may feel more comfortable talking to someone outside of your organisation, so we will endeavour to be as transparent as possible with employers, while respecting the apprentices trust and adhering to college confidentiality policies. As always, if we feel a young person is at risk of harm we may need to break confidentiality, but this would be explained to the apprentice.

In many cases someone will not always seek help over a safeguarding issue, but there are common signs which can help you to recognise when things may go wrong.

Warning signs to consider:

- Absence - Missing work or not turning up at college
- Change in appearance
- Changes in behaviour and character - becoming quiet or loud, aggressive or withdrawn.
- Changes in emotional health - crying, anxiety or low mood
- Excessive alcohol consumption
- Physical injuries - cuts or bruises

- Poor living conditions
- Self-harm
- Use of drugs
- Withdrawing from certain activities - reluctance to go online, sudden changes in use of technology

It is important to stress that the existence of some of these characteristics is not a definitive sign that anything is wrong.
